FRANCIS AND MARY E. HOUGH OF MS

Francis HOUGH (1833 MS - 17 Feb 1863 Academy Hospital, Chattanooga, TN, in Confederate Service) seems clearly to be a grandson of Francis HOUGH of Wayne Co, MS, but his parents have not been identified. The possibilities are Leonard, Alson, and Singleton.

p49

By 1850, Francis had md Mary E. FEWAX (1834 MS - after 1864), dau of John and Elizabeth (STRAHAN) FEWAX of Jasper and Jones Counties, MS. John and Elizabeth FEWAX were young, ages 38 and 36; and Mary E. was likely their oldest ch. Francis and Mary were in the same dwelling as her parents. In 1850, Thomas J. FEWAX (1845 MS) was with the couple. Thomas L. and Anna (LOPER) HOUGH were two dwellings away. It seems likely that Francis had been a ward of Thomas L. (The bible record for the Thomas L. HOUGH family does not include this Francis, but their own Francis A., 10 years younger.

Tax records show that Francis HOUGH was still in Jasper Co in 1853; but he and Mary seem to be the couple in Jones Co, MS, in 1860 as Francis and Mary HUFF. John and Elizabeth FEWAX were also nearby in Jones Co in 1860. Ch listed in 1860 for Francis and Mary E. were:

1. Aletha E. (2 Feb 1850/51 Jasper Co MS - 1 June 1893 Jackson Co, MS) md Joseph H. "Joe" SPICER (4 Jul 1846 Lincolnshire, England -) and SPICER ch incl Sarah Ann (md (1) ??? GRIMES and (2) William Albert HARRIS); Richard; James Hilton; Francis Edward; Mary E.; and Joseph H. The 1900 census shows remaining ch as: Clara (Jul 1883 MS); Paul (May 1886 MS); and James (Aug 1890 MS). In 1900, a Louisa G. SPICER hh was nearby with Louisa G. (May 1844 England), son William L. (Oct 1876 MS), and Edward (Jul 1878). It would appear this was a widowed sister-in-law to Joe H.

2. Martha (1853 MS -

3. Mary (1857 MS -

4. Delia (1857 MS -

5. son A. (1858 MS -

6. Rebecca (Apr 1861 MS -). There was a marriage of Mary Rebecca HOUGH in Jones Co in 1880 to William NELSON (Apr 1858 MS -). In 1900, their ch were Nancy (Apr 1883 MS); Mary (Mar 1887); Louise (Sep 1889); Ella (Feb 1892); Julian (Apr 1895); and Virgil (Feb 1899). They lived in Beat 3 of Jones Co at Erata.

Francis HOUGH entered Confederate service on 10 Aug 1861 in Capt A. MCLEMORE's Comp. (Rosinheels), and this company became Comp. B, 27th Miss. Inf. Francis was sick in the summer and fall of 1862 and was sent to the hospital 26 Jan 1863, where he died within three weeks. Confederate Archives, Chapter 10, File #7, pp 115, 119, show he left $140.50, certificates numbered SC 561 and 736-2WO. The account was settled 4 Feb 1864 (Confederate Archives, Ch 10, File 21, p 267.)

Company Commander Capt. A. M. MCLEMORE certified that he had on 10 Aug 1861 enlisted Francis HOUGH, age 28, 5 feet, 8 inches in height, dark complexion, black hair, farmer, born in MS. He left no personal effects, and his legal representative was Mary E. HOUGH of Erata, MS. Capt MCLEMORE gave his statement from Shelbybille, TN, on 3 Apr 1863. On 24 Apr 1863, Mary E. HOUGH appeared before Robert JAMES, a justice of the peace in Jasper Co, MS, along with John FEWAX as her verifying witness, requesting effects and arrears in pay. She named her attorney as James J. SHANNON of Paulding, Jasper Co. Robert GOUGH, Jasper Co Clerk, attested that Robert JAMES was a justice of the peace in Jasper Co. Payment was made 4 Feb 1864 to J. J. SHANNON of Meridian, MS, for the widow, Mary E. HOUGH. Final amount was $134.25.

Neither the widow nor the children except Aletha A. and Mary Rebecca have been identified in records after 1864. There were a number of HOUGH marriages in Clarke Co, MS, after the War; but none match the names of the females shown for Francis and Mary.

Hough lineage seems to be Francis and Mary E. (Fewax) of MS; prob. Alson or Singleton or Leonard of AL and MS; Francis and Unity (   ) of GA, AL, and MS; Samuel and Sarah (   ) of NC, GA, AL, and MS; poss. Samuel and Frances (   ) of Anson Co, NC; poss. Quaker immigrant families from Cheshire to Bucks Co, PA;

MATILDA (ORINDER) AND ZEBEDEE MASON OF SC AND MS

Matilda "Tildy" ORINDER/ORENDER (1818/1819 SC - after 1880 prob Jones Co, MS), grew up in MS after her parents moved from SC to MS along with her grandparents, Edward and Sarah (LAREMON) McCARTY. At first, they lived in Wayne Co, MS, then in Rankin Co, then back to Wayne Co, after her father, Henry ORINDER, disappeared about 1840. About 1840, she md Zebedee MASON (1810 TN - after 1880 prob Jones Co, MS).

She and Zebedee lived among or near McCARTY relatives for many years. They were in Wayne Co in 1841, Clarke Co in 1843, Clarke Co 1851-54, then in 1860 in Smith Co. Their next neighbor in Smith Co was Alfred McCARTY, her first cousin. By 1870, they had moved into Jones Co, where they were in 1880. This is the last record for them.

It is now known that Zebedee MASON bought the land of John C. HOGAN, who had died intestate in 1869. He bought the land from the widow, Susan HOGAN, and her adult ch, probably not knowing it was encumbered by debt. The creditor, William McCURDY, sued Zebedee MASON and the heirs of John C. HOGAN over the land. It appears from the records that Susan and her ch had moved to LA. They were listed as widow Susan, adults Melissa; S. P.; J. W.; and M. Emeline SPENCER, wife of Robert SPENCER; and minors Pamela and William. The land was apparently sold to recover the debt, and Zebedee was either forced to pay twice or was the loser. Whatever the outcome was, Zebedee stayed in Jones Co.

The MASON ch who have been identified were:

1. Frances (1850 MS -) prob md by 1870.

2. Catherine (1851 MS -) prob md by 1870.

3. Altema (1853 MS -) ~~prob~~ md in 1872 to James Abner TEMPLES.

4. Margaret (1858 MS -) prob md by 1880.

5. Zebedee, Jr (1866 Smith Co, MS -), listed with parents in 1880 as Jackson. He was not identified later.

Unless this was a second marriage for Zebedee, there were likely ch born before 1850.

Of the five above, only Altema has been traced. Her middle name may have been Aletha. In 1872, she apparently md as second wife to James Abner TEMPLES (Aug 1843/47 MS), of MS parents. In 1880, they were the next hh to Zebedee and Tilda MASON, listed as J. A. and A. TEMPLES. Their ch were AndreWs (1875); Allen (1876); Tilda (1877); and Martin (1878).

In 1900, their family seems to be listed as Abner and Altamire TEMPLES, with ch as Matilda (Feb 1878); Thomas B. (Mary 1881); Barbara A. (Dec 1892); John A. (Jul 1895); and granddau Letha C. (Feb 1896). Allen was nearby working for George W. LOWE.

In 1910, the family was shown as James A. and Aletha, with Aletha as second wife, they being md 38 year. Aletha had had 8 ch, and 6 were living. Ch with them were: James M. (prob. Martin) (1876); Anna S., prob. Barbara A. (1892); John A. (1894); and Mary Viola (1898), not identified in 1900. The next family in 1910 was Andrew (1875 MS) and Amirilyann TEMPLES with ch: Clifton (1899 MS), and a dau with a name something like Chrisdil.

In 1920, the only family readily identified was Allen (1874/76 MS) md to Nettie ??? (1887 MS), with son Herman B. (1915 MS).

Some of the TEMPLES descendants still live in Jones Co. Johnnie A. TEMPLES (5 Jul 1893 - 7 Jul 1966), prob. son of James Abner and Altima, was bur in Bethlehem Ch Cem, east of Laurel (Sec 36, T9N, R11W). Other TEMPLES are bur there, but their relationship is not clear. Clifton TEMPLE (1899 - 1948), prob son of Andrew and Amirilyann, was bur in Union Line Cem (Sec 29, T10N, R 12W.

There was a close relationship between Zebedee and Tildy and a female M. ARINDER, believed to be former wife of Tillman ARINDER. She had been Minerva HOGAN (1843 MS - after 1880), a member of the 1850 hh of John and Susannah HOGAN, but not their daughter. She was more likely niece to John. In 1870, she was a close neighbor to Zebedee and Tildy, and in 1880, she was in their hh as a servant, along with her ch. These ch are listed as ARINDER: Martha (1864 MS); Dicy/Nisey (1867 MS); Vicey (1871 MS); Albana (1876 MS); and Angeline (1878 MS). M. ARINDER was 40 years old in 1880. It is not known that there were other ch. None of these ARINDER persons have been identified later. (Because of Zebedee's long association with the HOGAN family, it seems probable that he was related to it, either by blood or marriage. It may also explain how Tillman ARINDER happened to marry the orphaned young Minerva HOGAN.)

Orinder lineage is Matilda and Zebedee Mason of SC and MS; Henry and Alouthea (McCarty) of SC and MS; poss. Isaac and Lydia (   ) Orender of VA and SC:

JAMES MILLER, JR, OF SC AND AMITE CO, MS

James MILLER, Jr, was in Edgefield Co, SC, and later in Amite Co, MS, along with James MILLER, Sr. Proximity in census records and family tradition indicate he was son of James MILLER, Sr. In the 1800 time period, the terms Jr, and Sr, could mean merely the "younger" or "older," but James MILLER, Sr, in his will also designated himself as James MILLER, Sr. This would not have been necessary had he not had a son in mind. Arnold MILLER, son of James, Jr, bought from the estate of his grandfather.

James MILLER, Jr, was likely born about 1775, as he showed in 1820 to be over 45. He probably started his family in Edgefield Co, SC, as he shows up there in 1800 as head of a household and as James MILLER, Jr. We have not yet recovered the name of his wife. James MILLER, Sr, had already moved west and may have been in Livingston Co, KY, in 1800, along with George GORDON.

By 1810, both James MILLER, Sr, and James MILLER, Jr were together in Amite Co, both with young males and females in their households. Some of those for James MILLER, Sr, were undoubtedly his two orphaned GORDON grandchildren. Both families continued in Amite Co in 1816 and 1820. Only one family was between them in the census entries for 1820. They apparently lived on Miller Creek, a branch of the Tickfaw River, in Amite Co, just north of the MS/LA state line. James MILLER, Sr, made his will in 1826 and died in late 1827. Unfortunately, he only specified His wife Lydia, his daus Simpey and Marium, and made Moses and Aaron MILLER executors. He referred to all others as "my lawful heirs." James MILLER, Jr, cannot be identified in 1830, though he could have been in Pike Co where the census was destroyed. He could also have been in LA. The MILLER, GORDON, and HOLDEN families were on both sides of the state line. They were Baptists who attended the Jerusalem Baptist Church near Gillsburg.

Four records in Amite Co may be significant. On 15 May 1811 in Amite Co, one James Miller md Elizabeth WARNER. If the same James MILLER, this would be a second wife. On 3 Dec 1811, one James MILLER received 160 acres of land, the SW 1/4 of Sec 6, T1W, R6E. Estate records may show which James MILLER this land grant was for. Elizabeth Otsey Miller md Elijah ROBERTS on 26 Feb 1818, possibly as second wife. James MILLER went on bond with Elijah ROBERTS in support for this marriage. The fourth record is that James M. MILLER on 2 Jan 1842 sold land in Amite Co to Daniel G. BOATNER.

PASCAGOULA LIBRARY
GENEALOGY COLLECTION
DO NOT CIRCULATE

One James MILLER, Sr, bought land from Arnold MILLER on 19 Mar 1838 in Amite Co. This suggests that he was alive, had assumed the Sr title, and that there was a son James.

There are several James MILLER households in MS in 1840, but none can definitely be identified as the correct one. James MILLLER died intestate by March 1845, and his son-in-law Charles TATE applied to administer his estate, with bond by Jehu WALL. This was in Amite Co, but Charles TATE had lived in Pike Co in 1840. He could not read nor write, but Jehu WALL signed with a clear hand. Jehu WALL was a well-to-do slave holder in Amite Co in 1840. The relationship of Jehu WALL to the MILLER family is not known, but it is clear there were no MILLER sons in the area to do the administration. The major items for sale were three tracts of land, totaling 272 acres. Notice of sale was published six times in the "Liberty Advocate," Liberty, Amite Co, MS, in Aug and Sep, 1845. The land was to be sold at Washington, MS. It included the SW 1/4 of Section 25, Twp 1, R5E; West 1/2 of the NW 1/4 of Section 31, Twp 1, R6E; and the SW 1/4 of the SW 1/4 of Section 30, Twp 1, R6E, totaling 271 and 72/100 acres. (The description would nominally be for 280 acres.) This land was just north of Miller Creek on the Tickfaw River. Following the description of land to be sold was a list of the legatees in a different handwriting, then their location is still different writing. Legatees were James A. MILLER, Hiram MILLER, Arnald MILLER (a middle initial was crossed out) (of Texas); John W. MILLER of Pike Co; and Cyntha JOHNSON (of Texas. Elizabeth ROBERTS was not mentioned. Charles TATE made his final accounting to the Court in July, 1848. Then, on 16 Aug 1848, Jehu WALL made a statement to the court that John W. MILLER was of Pike Co, Arnold MILLER of Hinds Co, and James A. MILLER of Smith Co, and that the remainder of the heirs lived beyond the jurisdiction of the state of Mississippi, and that he knew not their residences. Hiram MILLER and Cyntha JOHNSON were not mentioned in this Jehu WALL statement, and Arnold MILLER was placed in Hinds Co, MS, rather than Texas. The full meaning of the estate proceeding is not readily apparent. What is missing is the distribution of the proceeds of the land sale to the legatees.

We are left with the names of seven possible children, most known to be born before 1811, the marriage year of James Miller in Amite Co. It is clear there was no surviving widow, so any second wife probably died before 1840. The seven ch for whom we have names are:

In 1840 Charles Tate was next to Elijah Roberts; neither have been found on the 1850 census

1. Mary (bef 1800 SC -) on 14 Apr 1816 in Amite Co, md Charles TATE, with James MILLER giving consent. The TATE family lived in Pike and Amite counties, and Charles TATE was the administrator of the James MILLER estate. Tate Ch are no~~t~~ known, but may incl:

2. Elizabeth Otsey (c 1800 -) on 26 Feb 1818 md Elijah ROBERTS, with James MILLER going on bond in support. One Elijah ROBERTS was in Washington Parish in 1820. In 1840 Elijah Roberts was next to Charles Tate in Pike Co, MS. Census records indicate there were several Roberts ch, to incl:

(In 1840, John Holden lived near Charles Tate 3 and Elizabeth Roberts in Pike Co.)

5 3. Arnold (c 1804 GA? - after 1860 TX) was head of a household in Amite Co in 1830. On 4 Feb 1832 he sold land to John HOLDEN. Then, on 19 Mar 1838, ~~he~~ Arnold sold land to James MILLER, Sr. In 1845, he was assumed to be in Texas, but he was reported in Hinds Co in 1848. In 1860, he was indeed in Texas, next to his widowed sister Elizabeth (JOHNSON) MILLER. He had no family in 1860.

3 4. James A. (1798 SC - 1850/60 Smith Co, MS) may be the younger James MILLER who was head of a hh in Amite Co in 1830, very close to Arnold MILLER. In 1848, he was said to be in Smith Co. James MILLER was in Smith Co in 1840 and 1841 next to Hiram MILLER. In 1850, James MILLER (1799 SC) was md to Elizabeth (1805 GA) with ch William Jasper (1829 MS), James Lott (1831 MS), Monk "Mark" (1832 MS), Milton (1834 MS), Martin V. B. (1837 MS), Arnold G. (1838 MS), Mary (1840 MS), Francis M. "Frank" (1842 MS), Martha Elmira (1845 MS), and Simon Peter 1847 MS). There was a younger James MILLER with a family in the county who could be the older male listed in 1840. The JOHNSON family tradition is that Elizabeth was dau of Lott JOHNSON and sister to William Dee JOHNSON who md Cynthia MILLER. After James died, Elizabeth took her family to Texas and settled near her brother in Atascosa Co.

4 ⑤ Hiram (8 June 1801 ~~MS~~ SC - before 1870 Smith Co, MS) about 1825 in Pike Co, MS md Susanna COLE (16 Oct 1802 MS - before 1870 Smith Co, MS) dau of Mark and Hannah (SPELL) COLE. They probably started their family in Pike Co, MS, but were in Smith Co by 1840 along with James MILLER. They were early settlers on Cohay Creek near the Covington Co line. Ch were Joseph William (1826-1855); John Harvey (1829-1882); James Winfield (1832-after 1900); Franklin M. "Dock" (1833-1863); Richard Washington "Dick" (1835-1863); Hannah Elizabeth (1836-1903), wife of Ivy WALKER; Aaron S. (1840-after 1910); Sarah A. (1842-1884), second wife of James Jackson CLARK; and Martha Lenora "Nora" (1843-1904) wife of Jeptha KEYES, killed in Civil War, then wife of Frank HOUGH.

7 6. John W. (poss 1811 MS -) was in Amite Co with a hh in 1840. He was practicing a learned profession, perhaps teaching school or something like that. In 1845 and 1848, he was said to be in Pike Co. In 1850 there was a John W. MILLER, Sr, family in Pike Co with young children. John W. MILLER, Sr (1811 MS); Eliza (1820 NC); James P. (1845 MS); Charles H. (1846 MS); Nancy J. (1848 MS); and William P. (1850 MS). In another household was John W. MILLER (1827 MS) with Richard J. and Nancy SIMMONS.

6 7. Cyntha (c 1805/07 MS - 1868 TX) on 1 Nov 1828 in Amite Co, MS, md William Dee JOHNSON (1806 GA - 1857 TX, bur Old Rock Cem, Somerset), son of Lott JOHNSON. James MILLER gave consent for the marriage, and he and William JOHNSON were the bondsmen. The JOHNSON family lived first in MS, then was in TX by 1845. They lived first in Van Zandt Co, then moved by 1850 to Bexar Co. William Dee JOHNSON was shot from ambush in Atascosa Co, TX. The JOHNSON ch incl Sarah Ann; William Dykes; Lott W.; Virgil Arthur; Henry Clay; Mary Adeline; and a child rumored possibly named Quill ~~Mark Twain whose census record has been read as Twill, O'Neil, etc~~.

Lineage is James Miller Jr, of SC and Amite Co, MS; James Miller Sr, and Lydia (   ) of SC and Amite Co, MS;

The name of the first wife is not yet known.

BRICE MILLER

Born about 1770. Aged 40 to 60 on 1830 Simpson County, Miss. Census.

Listed in Lancaster County, S. C. 1790 Census; 1820 Pike County, Mississippi Census; 1830 Simpson County, Mississippi Census.

Found on the 1805 Georgia Land Lottery, a resident of Hancock County. Left Georgia about 1815, for he was found in the Natchez district of Mississippi about 1816.

When listed head of household in Lancaster County, South Carolina in 1790, he was unmarried.

Died after 1830, probably Simpson County, Mississippi, since he was not found there in 1840.

Children, put together from Census records, their movements from Georgia into Mississippi, etc.:

1. Alexander Miller. Born 1801 in Hancock County, Georgia. Wife, Nancy. 1850Copiah County, Miss. Census aged 49. Listed on 1840 Simpson County, Miss. Census.

1850 census index

2. John Miller, born between 1810 and 1815 Hancock County, Georgia. Of the right age to be a son of Brice Miller on 1830 Simpson County, Miss. Census. John is listed as head of household on 1840 Simpson County, Miss. Census. I searched the 1850 Sabine Parish, La. Census and did not find John Miller there. We know he was in La. by 1850, because of the birth dates of his children, and where the children were born.

3. Samuel Miller, born 1810 Hancock County, Georgia. Listed on 1850 Simpson County, Miss. Census. Wife, Damaris, aged 37, born in S. C. Samuel, aged 40, born in Ga.

4. Andrew Miller, born 1805 Hancock County, Georgia. Listed on 1850 Simpson County, Miss. Census, aged 45, born in Georgia.

5. Daughter, born between 1804 and 1810 in Hancock County, Ga.

6. Asa Miller, born October 29, 1800–2/6/1880, listed on 1830 Simpson County, Miss. Census, male 20 to 40 years old.

7. Eli Miller, born about 1790 to 1810 Hancock County, Georgia. Listed on 1830 Simpson County, Miss. Census, aged 20 to 40.

MILLER on County, Miss.

8. William Miller, 6/21/1801-2/23/1883, listed on 1830 Simpson County, Miss. Census, and on 1850 Pike County, Miss. Census, aged 50, born in Georgia. Has a son, Brice Miller. Wife, Jane, born 1810, Ga.

10. Daughter, born between 1794/1804 Hancock County, Georgia.

11. Daughter, born between 1794/1804 Hancock County, Georgia.

12. Daughter, born between 1794/1804 Hancock County, Georgia.

I compared the age groups between the 1820 Pike County and 1830 Simpson County, Miss. Census and came up with twelve children. The above named persons fit into the age ranges perfectly.

The wife of Brice Miller, was listed as between the age of 40 and 60 on the 1830 Simpson County, Miss. Census.

Brice Miller was a son of:

ALEXANDER MILLER

Of Lancaster County, S. C., Born about 1740/50. Died 1786, when his estate was administered in Greene County, Georgia. His widow, Ellinor, married after his death, John Barron. Listed on 1790 Lancaster County, S. C. Census.
Brice Miller was, of course, named in the estate record as preveiously sent, however, I have outlined several others who follow the same movements and seem to also be children of Alexander Miller.

1. Brice Miller.

2. Thompson Miller, born in 1790 Hancock County, Georgia. On 1830, 1840 and 1850 Pike County, Miss. Census. 1850, aged 60, born in Georgia. Wife, Clara, aged 45, born in S. C.

3. John Miller, Last Will and Testament dated 1809 Hancock County, Georgia.

4. Alexander Miller, born October 12, 1775, died March 1, 1839. Bible of Mrs. H. M. Moore, Jackson County, Georgia.

[illegible]

This looks like the same Alexander Miller found on the 1840 Simpson County, Miss. Census. Alexander Miller lived for a time in Jackson County, Georgia, and then probably moved to Mississippi. The Bible of Abram Miller, born in Jackson County in 1802, shows that he died in Choctow County Mississippi. Abram Miller was a son of William Miller, born 1759, died February 1, 1849 Jackson County, Georgia.

Alexander Miller was a son of -

JAMES MILLER

This is the progenitor of the Millers in Lancaster County, South Carolina and Hancock County, Georgia. He was listed on 1790 ~~Hancock County~~ Lancaster County, S. C. Census. According to the enclosed obituary notice from The Missionary newspaper, published in Hancock County, Georgia, on April 29, 1822, James Miller was born 1723 in the Northern Neck of Georgia, and had twenty children. Virginia

His Will dated February 14, 1821, probated May 13, 1822 Hancock County, Georgia, names wife, Leannah and sixteen children. The reason Alexander was not named is that he was deceased before his father.

Children named in Will:
Rhoda Cauton, Keziah Averett, Lucy Cook, Sarah Blount, Elizabeth, Polly Townsend (gave her 100# North Carolina currency), Susannah, Nancy Wad, James (#100 N. C. currency), John, Elijah, Thomas, Solomon, Hiram, William, and Rolley. Executors were: Mark Gouder, Henry W. Latimer, Solomon Miller, and Thomas J. Latimer.

The above William is the one mentioned in the Bible of Abram Miller. He was born 1759 and died February 1849. Will dated February 1, 1842, Winston County, Mississippi. He was listed in Lancaster County, S. C. in 1790, lived in Washington, Greene and Jackson Counties, Georgia (Jackson County for 30 years), before moving to Noxubee County, Mississippi where he was found in 1834.

A MILLER FAMILY TREE

Grows into a Forest

Early in the seventeenth century Kohn Myllar (Miller) and his wife, Mary, sailed from England with their small son to make a new home in America. They landed in Connecticut in 1636. After a few years they with several of their New England neighbors moved to Long Island then called Nassau Island. This group formed the first English settlement on that island. They were given a large tract of land and the right to fish and kill fish in Jamaica Bay provided they settled there. John Myllar and his associates including his older sons were whalers, farmers, and stock farmers. They are mentioned in all early histories of Long Island.

Conjecture

John and Mary had the following children: George Miller born in Craig-Miller, Scotland; William Miller who was on Alderman in the borough of Elizabeth for many years; Andrew Miller; Enoch Miller; John Miller; Aaron Miller; Hannah Miller; and Susannah Miller. Now these children married and settled in Long Island and nearby counties of New York and New Jersey.

Probably ok from here on Descended from one of these was William Miller born in New York, according to family tradition, about 1740. He married Hannah ——. They lived in the New York or New Jersey area until after the Revolution. Then they drifted southward. Their son, Aaron, is listed on a U.S. Census as being born in South Carolina. His wife Penelope was born in Georgia; so we assume that Aaron and Penelope were married in Georgia. Their children were born in Georgia, reared in Carroll County, Georgia where Aaron had received a land grant in the Georgia Lottery of 1827. Aaron died in 1843 leaving his wife Penelope, four grown children, and four "orphants". Penelope was appointed legal guardian for the four younger children, and their oldest son, James M. Miller, was appointed administrator of the estate. Penelope purchased the land belonging to the four older heirs from their father's estate for fifty dollars each. She also purchased from his personal belongings the property needed for herself and the four minor children. Certain other property she purchased and gave the older children. The oldest daughter according to a census record is not named nor mentioned in the settlement, nor did we find a marriage record for her. She probably died earlier than her father.

All the children named in the property settlement were married in Carroll County. Billy Miller was one of the four younger children. He lived with his mother until her death which we believe to have been between 1847 and 1850 as she sold property in Carroll County in 1847, but was not on the 1850 census.

Aaron's father, William Miller, received a land bounty grant in the 1827 Georgia Lottery also. The records state that he qualified for the Lottery because of his Revolutionary War service. Aaron qualified because of his having lived in Georgia for at least three years, or possibly because of his service in the War of 1812. They both lived in Jasper County, Georgia at the time they drew the land. Aaron moved to his grant, presumably, for he was on the 1830 US Census of Carroll County.

The records show that William let his land revert; and he lived out his life in Jasper County as his will is on record in that county.

After his mother's death, Billy Miller and his wife Cozanna lived on in Carroll County for a time. Then they moved into Alabama for a few years. Her parents, the William P. Selmcns, lived in Carroll County, Georgia, 7th District. William and Cozannah were back in Carroll County in 1860 as they appear on the Carroll County Census for that year.

William P. Selmon was of the Selmon Family of Alabama. This family came to America early in the seventeenth century from England, settling in Virginia. They were planters and stock farmers; and were prominent in the early history of Alabama. William P. Selmon's wife was Drucilla Ann (Drady Ann, Druly Ann). We do not know who her parents were.

William P. Selmon died in 1852 and Drucilla died in 1881. Their wills and property settlements are on record in Carroll County, Georgia.

IX. Marion Miller, b. 1831; m. Jane Hall, Nov. 29, 1850, Carroll Co., Ga.

William and Cozanna Miller lived in Carroll Co., Georgia, in Alabama, and again in Corroll Co., Ga. before the Civil War. William served in the Confederate Army throughout the war. However, he spent several months in the enemy prison hospital in Va. He escaped, went back to Ga. and re-enlisted; but was home on sick leave part of the time as he could not seem to get over the infection he had had earlier. He also spent some time in a Confederate Camp Hospital. For the first few years he tried to rebuild his home and life in Carroll Co.; but by 1869, he like many another disillusioned Confederate Soldier, sold his land and loaded his family and personal property into big wagons and headed for Texas where a man could still find good land and look toward the future with hope.

The travel weary family reached Collin County in the late fall of 1869. The weather had grown cold; so they stopped for the winter and stayed a year. The fall of 1870 found them over in the corner of Hamilton and Comanche Counties. They had found home; and they lived out their lives there.

At first Billy Miller and his older sons ran cattle on the open range as did everyone else in the county. Later they fenced their land but continued to grow cattle and horses. Billy was active in the county in church and civic work. He was often called to serve on the jury as well as other duties. He always wanted to carry his share of responsibility.

He and Cozanna brought their children up in the Baptist church, and gave them as much education as the community provided. Billy found time to teach many singing schools during the years. He taught Sacred Harp Singing, and was very active in Singing Association work as well. In fact, he was often called the "Old Time Singing Miller". His granddaughter, Bertha Lincoln, has his Singing Association Minute Book -- he was president of that association for some years.

Naturally, with transportation and communication as they were a century ago -- to say nothing of the time consuming business of making a living in the new frontier, families lost touch with relatives in the old home states. Although Billy Miller made two or three trips back to Alabama and Georgia, and one of his sisters moved to Texas -- Comanche County, their families lost touch. Only recently have we of the Billy Miller Family begun to trace our history beyond the state of Texas where many of us still live.

Through the efforts of the descendants of Billy and Cozanna Miller and Lamar Miller of Calhoun, Georgia (descendant of Jefferson Miller, brother of Billy), we have been able to tie the families of the children of Aaron and Penelope Miller into this history. Also, we have found records of Aaron's father's family. The similarity of given names falling into a regular pattern leads us to believe that these families are descendants of the John Miller Family of New York. Also our family tradition has it that our William Miller, grandfather of Jefferson and Billy, was born in New York.

Jefferson and Nancy Miller married in Carroll County, Georgia and lived there until 1847 or 48. Their first three children were born in Carroll County, Georgia. In 1847 or 1848 they moved to Cleburne County, Alabama where they were blessed with nine more children making them an even dozen.

Jefferson was a Baptist Minister, quite well known in Alabama. He was active in the Pine Tucky Baptist Church in Micaville, Alabama. According to one descendant of his, he also preached in the Birmingham, Alabama area.

Nancy Taylor Miller died in 1888 and was laid to rest in the Pine Tucky Cemetery, Micaville, Alabama. In 1890 Jefferson Miller and most of his family moved to Everett Springs, Georgia, (Floyd County).

In October 1898 Jefferson returned to Cleburne County from Floyd County in a horse drawn buggy to settle a sale on some property. Early in November he was found dead beside his buggy, near Micaville. He was laid to rest beside his wife in the Pine Tucky cemetery.

Nancy Taylor Miller was the daughter of Dorey and Matilda Ann Taylor of Carroll County, Georgia.

Jack Clark was a widower who married Sarah Miller in 1860. His previous family is of interest because two of his children married descendants of Hiram Miller and one child married John F. Cole's daughter. His first wife was Kisiah Wilbern. They were married 26 Dec 1839 and they had five children:

There may have been one other child.

The Clarks came from Kentucky to Mississippi. There were three brothers in the migration. Henry Clark was one of the brothers to Jack Clark and he is buried in the Clark Cemetery. Davis was married to Rhoda Belle Middleton, January 8, 1899. She was the daughter of Holland Davis Middleton and Malissa Ann (Sojourner) Middleton, who lived near Port Gibson. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have three children: Annie Belle, Percy Williams, and Prentiss Elliott. He was elected to the House of Representatives in 1923.

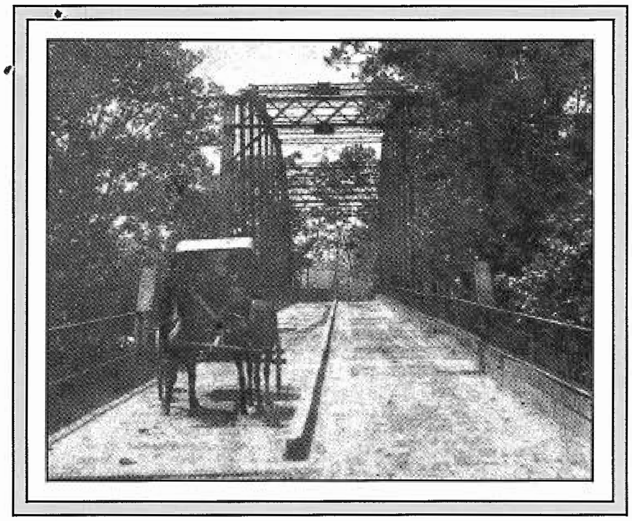
CLARKE AND JASPER COUNTIES

HOWARD LEE MILLER is a resident of Quitman, Miss., but was born at Increase, Lauderdale County, Miss., on July 6, 1888. His father, Ely Carmichael Miller, was also born in Mississippi, in Theadsville, in Clarke County. His parents were Michael Miller and Matheny (Brodhead) Miller. He afterwards lived at Increase and also at Middleton, where he engaged in farming. Howard Lee Miller is of French descent. His paternal ancestors were among the first settlers in this country and show by their names that they were among the prominent Colonial families. They came to South Carolina in the early part of the 17th century, and thence removed to Alabama, finally settling in Mississippi. His mother's ancestors came from France, and settled in Louisiana. Her maiden name was Martha Ann Dearman, and she was the daughter of William Dearman and Nancy (Ousley) Dearman of Whynot, Lauderdale County, Miss. Representative Miller received his early education at the Harvard School, one of the public schools of Clarke County. While a pupil there he was studious and made such good use of his time that he became a teacher at a very early age, and taught successfully for six years in the public schools of his county. He then took up the study of law; entered the Law Department of Millsaps College, and in 1914 received the degree of LL.B. In 1915 he began the practice of his profession at Quitman. Being widely known through his profession, he was elected a member of the Legislature in 1915. Representative Miller was re-elected to the House in 1923 for the term of 1924-28 and served in both sessions. He is a Democrat, a member of the Baptist Church, and belongs to the Woodmen of the World and the Columbian Woodmen.

FRANKLIN AND LINCOLN COUNTIES

ROBERT BURTON JORDAN, son of John Hudson Jordan, was born at McCall's Creek, January 18, 1888. He is the grandson of William Sutton Jordan and Mary Samantha Jordan. His mother, Frances Adisha (Clay) Jordan, was the daughter of John Martin Clay and Mary Adaline Clay. The Clays were from Scotland. They moved first to South Carolina and later to Mississippi. John Martin Clay was a Lieutenant under Bedford Forrest, and was one of the colonial settlers of Mississippi. William Sutton Jordan was of Scotch-Irish descent, coming from South Carolina to Mississippi as an early settler. Robert Burton Jordan attended the Franklin County Public Schools and the Auburn High School. He was also in Ruskin Cave College two years under President Smith. At the time of his election to the Legislature in 1923 he had been a teacher for twelve years, having served five years as principal of Little Springs High School. He also has farming and mercantile interests. He is a Democrat and a Methodist. He has served as Steward in his church, Bible Class teacher, and Sunday-school Superintendent. Mr. Jordan married Bessie M. Dickson at McHenry, May 30, 1914. Miss Dickson was the daughter of John Jacob Dickson and Annie E. (Stewart) Dickson, who lived at McHenry. John Jacob Dickson came from Florida, and settled in Harrison County, where he engaged in the mercantile business. Annie (Stewart) Dickson was the daughter of George Stewart, and he too was an early settler of Harrison County. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan have three children, Elena Burt, Joe Binford, and John Dickson.

Jesse Miller, Jr.



The Schultz Creek Bridge, from which Jesse Miller threw the body of Edmond Parker in 1891, was similar to this bridge across the Cahaba River at Centreville. (Courtesy Gesna Hubbard Young)

The general lawlessness that infected much of the state and came to a climax in central Alabama in the 1890s is often traced to the climate of rebellion following the Civil War, when citizens clashed with the Federal occupation authorities. Bibb County, destitute after having lost its only two industries—a cotton factory at Scottsville and the Brierfield Iron Works—during a Federal raid in the closing days of the war, was home to many citizens who were particularly recalcitrant. Centreville residents still repeat the story of how young Jacob Mayberry ended a quarrel with a soldier of the local garrison by backing him against a tree on Courthouse Square and killing him with the blow of an axe. Disregard for the law in neighboring Shelby County grew to such proportions that the military regime in Montgomery threatened to send a mounted force to arrest all offenders. The woods, where army deserters and conscript dodgers had hidden during the war, now became a refuge for other disaffected residents, who preyed on the communities nearby.

For self-protection, many of the criminals worked in gangs. In Shelby County, immediately after the war, "the Blackwell crowd" is said to have operated near Montevallo and to have been responsible for killing seventeen men. A band of outlaws inhabited the swamps along Yellow Leaf Creek in Chilton County, and another gang hid in the north Bibb hills in an area known as the Uglies, around Big Ugly and Little Ugly creeks. Among the most notorious of the outlaws, however, were the Miller, Morrison, and Thrasher gangs, all of whom operated out of "Bloody Bibb," where they kept law enforcement officials on the run during the last decades of the nineteenth century.

Jesse Miller, Jr., a Bibb County farmer from the Scottsville area, liked to work with a gang, and he surrounded himself with numerous agents, both white and black, who executed his plots for him. For over a decade during the 1880s and early 1890s, Miller and his underlings, whom the newspapers called "cat's-paws," terrorized the people of central Alabama, stealing freely and murdering, or threatening to murder, those who stood in their way.

Miller's grandfather, Ezekiel Miller, an early settler in Bibb County, had operated a grist mill on Schultz Creek near what was to become Scottsville, where many of his descendants settled. But one of those descendants, Jesse, Jr., was not satisfied with a small farm. He wanted more property, and he intended to get it.

After the Civil War, young Jesse married Amanda Dover, whose brother Pete became Jesse's partner in crime. Eventually they were joined by others, most of whom were related to Miller either by marriage or by blood. According to the county newspapers of the 1890s, Miller was assisted by another brother-in-law, Robert R. McCulley, by his own brother, Theophilus (Offie) Miller, by his cousins J. T. (Offie) Medders and the Reach brothers, and by friends George Cook and Monroe Kellum. Local tradition also adds several other family members to this group.

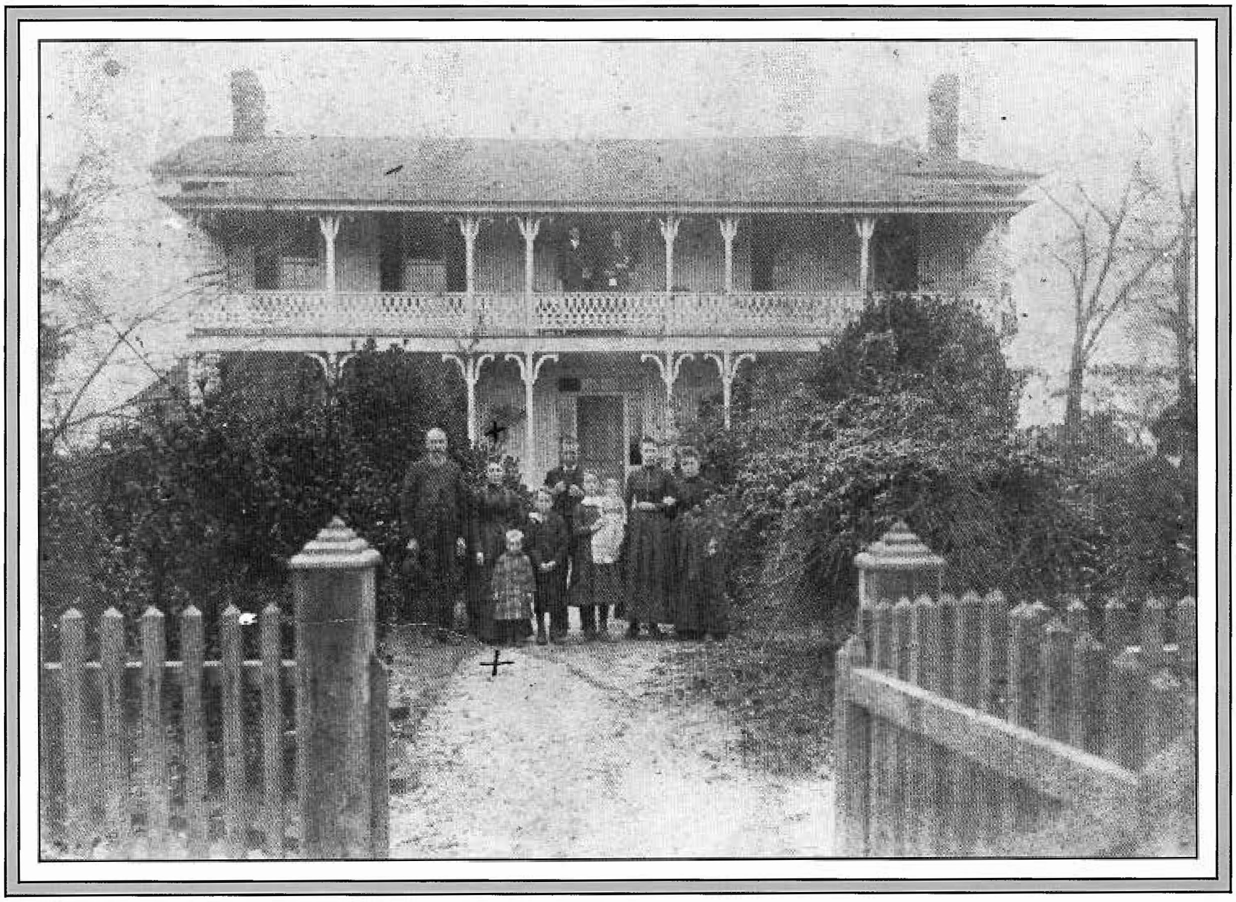
The Miller family gang began by stealing livestock. Miller's neighbors, returning home, would find their horses and mules gone; on one occasion, two farmers, Barney Kornegay and Jess Murphy, discovered gang members corralling stolen mules in the barnyard of an absent neighbor; another report holds that the Miller gang drove stolen cattle through Tuscaloosa County, making them ford the Warrior River and driving them as far north as Fayette, where the cattle were sold.

Cotton disappeared as often as livestock. According to stories passed down in Bibb County, Miller's farm hands were pressed into service as thieves. One black stooge, Mose Jacobs, traveled throughout the area stealing bales of cotton at night, wrapping his wagon wheels in croker sacks to muffle their noise. A farmer who suspected Miller of the thefts hid pine splinters in his staple and was able, therefore, to identify his property when it was brought to the Harrisburg gin.

Although he usually depended on his cat's-paws to rob barns for him, Miller could perform the trick well enough himself. On one occasion, he stopped at the home of the Centreville schoolmaster, Jesse Dean Cooper, where Miller's daughter, Grace, resided during the academic term, and he paid for her room and board with a load of corn. After a cordial visit with Cooper on the front porch, Miller took his leave at twilight, quietly reclaiming the wagon load of corn from his host's corncrib.

The schoolmaster did not protest publicly, but several other victims did. On February 26, 1891, the Centreville Blade-Enterprise published a letter from an indignant Scottsville citizen. The writer, who signed the letter "A Sufferer," included a list of items ranging from a saddle to a widow's peanut crop, all of which, the writer claimed, had been stolen from the community and traced to Miller or his cat's-paws. The complaint concluded: "For the last two or three years cattle, swine, sheep, goats and other livestock has disappeared as by magic; we all know what has become of them, but [how] to catch them in the act, 'that is the question'."

While citizens and law-enforcement officers contemplated



Grace Miller (second from right), the daughter of outlaw Jesse Miller, posed in 1890 with her schoolmaster, Jesse Dean Cooper, members of Cooper's family, and other students who boarded at the Cooper home. (Courtesy Rhoda Coleman Ellison) the answer to that question, Miller continued to increase his holdings by investing the profits from the stolen goods in land. In addition to large tracts of timberland, he eventually owned what was referred to as a "twelve-mule farm," meaning approximately 480 acres, since a mule was expected to cultivate forty acres. But as the boundaries of his property expanded, so did Miller's ruthlessness, particularly toward those who refused to sell him land.

According to one story, he set fire to the cabin of a black neighbor, Lum Miller, who died in the conflagration. Jesse then acquired the farmer's homestead and cotton patch for a pittance. Another story holds that Miller also commissioned his brother-in-law, Pete Dover, to kill John Archibald Wood, who owned a farm adjoining Miller's. According to a neighbor's affidavit, Wood had already sold Miller one section of his farm, but Miller apparently wanted more. Wood was shot from ambush late one afternoon in July 1881 as he was dismounting his horse to open his driveway gate. Pete Dover was convicted of the murder and sentenced to life in the state penitentiary, but in December 1883, before he could begin serving his term, Dover escaped from the Bibb jail. He was never caught.

As the gang continued its crimes, Jesse Miller tightened his grip on the county. Almost everyone was frightened of him, even, it was charged, Sheriff Alonzo Bates and some members of the grand jury, at least one of whom, Andrew Jackson Day, had received a death threat. After a mass meeting of citizens in May 1891, vigilance groups, called "beat clubs," were formed in all the precincts. On one occasion, the Blocton Vigilance Committee mustered sixty of its members to guard witnesses on their way to a court trial in Centreville. And at the end of the year, when it was reported that fifteen men had been murdered in Bibb County, but only one murderer had been incarcerated, many citizens demanded the sheriff's resignation; he was finally voted out of office the following spring.

"Jesse Miller tied the old man to weights, shoots his brains out, . . . and kicks him in the river."

That same year, 1891, a flamboyant young newspaper editor, Frank Connerly, established Centreville's State Central Express and assured himself a healthy readership by regularly recounting Jesse Miller's exploits in his paper. (About the same time, Tom McCumber, editor of the Blocton Courier, dared to tell the same story, though not quite as vehemently as Connerly; later, the Birmingham State Herald would give Connerly primary credit for Miller's downfall.) After weekly attacks over a period of many months, Connerly's series reached a climax in January 1892 in an article entitled "20 Years in Hell." Following a hair-raising narration of the deaths of Lum Miller and Archie Wood, Connerly recounted two other gruesome murders:

> A few years ago Jesse Miller and his hired wretches stole 800 pounds of seed cotton from an old negro [Edmond Parker], for which an indictment was found against him by the December '90 grand jury, and in March '91 Jesse Miller tied the old man to iron weights, shoots his brains out, embowels the body, and kicks it into the river [Schultz Creek]. Later he removes the blood stains from the bridge where he commits the deed, and [after having retrieved it] pours oil on the body, piles pines and brush upon the remains and burns them. . . .
> A few months later Miller had one Henry Smith, a cat's-paw who hauled Parker's cotton to Miller's gin house, tied and murdered to silence the evidence.

As Connerly recounts the story, Miller became a desperate man, killing his own cat's-paws—among them, Henry Smith and Will Morrison—to prevent them from testifying against him in court. With the law closing in, Miller fled the state.

The climate of fear that Jesse Miller created did not die easily in Bibb County, and many residents feared that the outlaw would return. One elderly citizen, years ago, recalled that as a young man he thought he once glimpsed Miller's sharp eye behind a shotgun carefully propped on a log near the Scottsville road, but he dared not take a second look as he drove by. Other reports also suggest that Miller made surreptitious visits to his home from his hideout in Mississippi, or possibly New Mexico. Whatever the truth in the matter, he was never seen in public in Bibb County again.

As a fugitive, Miller found that his large land holdings were a liability. On January 2, 1892, just before he vanished, he and his wife transferred an extensive tract to his brother, Theophilus, for $5,000. On April 27, the sheriff advertised that certain land owned by Miller was to be offered for sale to reimburse the county for delinquent taxes. In an obvious attempt to protect his property from the law, Miller, on July 20, 1895, deeded another tract to his daughter Grace.

Although Miller later regained much of his land in his own name, he was unable to manage it in person; on October 15, 1900, he gave his son Brooks power of attorney "to look after my lands in Bibb County." After numerous transactions, all of Miller's holdings were sold at foreclosure of mortgages on September 30, 1901, and became the property of Henderson Coal Company.

The Morrison Boys

While no other local bandit generated the fear that Jesse Miller did, several others contributed to the climate of lawlessness that prevailed in Bibb County during the 1880s and 1890s. Among the best known were "the Morrison boys"—Sam, Jim, Will, and Jack. They were sons of William Morrison, a farmer in the rugged Woodstock-Green Pond area in northern Bibb County. This section was commonly known as Kingdom Beat, because, it was once said, the residents of that precinct lived like kings. In this area, the four young men had grown up in a large web of protective Morrison families.

The indulgent term "boys," which was never applied to Jesse Miller's group, suggests that the Morrisons were simply young, high-spirited pranksters. They were, in fact, accomplished horse thieves, highwaymen, and, on occasion, murderers. According to a local newspaper, by 1891 all four Morrison brothers were fugitives from the law.

That same year, Jim Morrison, the leader of the gang, was captured in Bibb County after escaping from the Pratt Mines Penitentiary, where he had been incarcerated for murdering a deputy sheriff. According to the Birmingham News in 1896, he was at one time considered the worst man in the state. Oral tradition connects him with Jesse Miller, and the News called him a partner of outlaw Bart Thrasher, but Jim led his own band until he was shot down while resisting arrest by Deputy Sheriff Henry Cole near the Perry County line.

Apparently Jim's brothers carried on. Some years later, on November 13, 1903, the Blocton Messenger reported that an old gang, "formerly under the leadership (so supposed) of Jim Morrison, the noted Bibb County outlaw" was running stolen horses from Bessemer through Bibb into Perry and Hale counties and perhaps into Mississippi.

Whether or not Jim Morrison ever became involved with Jesse Miller and his gang, his brother Will did. A cat's-paw for Miller, Will reportedly was the young man who brought "the worthy black," Edmond Parker, to Miller to be murdered on Schultz Creek Bridge in March 1891. Later, in December, Will himself was murdered from ambush, allegedly by four members of the Miller gang. He was said to have been on his way to collect the $200 in "hush money" Jesse Miller had promised him.

Sam Morrison, who was with Will the night he was shot, later paid Miller back. His eyewitness testimony in court resulted in Jesse Miller's indictment for murder and his subsequent flight from the state.

Bart Thrasher and Detective Henry Cole

Even more notorious than "the Morrison boys" were "the Thrasher boys." They, too, resided in Kingdom Beat, where they, like the Morrisons, were surrounded by numerous relatives. James Bartow Thrasher, called Bart, and his brothers Elisha (Lish), Newbern, and Benjamin, were sons of a carpenter, John E. Thrasher, a descendant of early settlers. The three oldest sons made headlines during the 1890s throughout central Alabama.

According to one family story, Bart's lifelong conflict with the law began when he was arrested for hog-stealing. In the dense woods, where livestock roamed freely, he purportedly made the mistake of capturing a neighbor's hog instead of his own, and afterwards, it was claimed, he was always under suspicion by the authorities. Another family tradition credits Bart's mother, Rutha, with teaching him to steal, but another story claims that he was simply a victim of the lawless environment that prevailed in and around the mining camps in northern Bibb County. Whatever the origin of Bart Thrasher's criminal career, he was well launched into it before he came of age. By the time he was twenty-one, he had shot a man named Lawley, possibly fatally, had been arrested, sent to jail, and had escaped. By June of 1890, according to the Centreville Blade-Enterprise, he was terrorizing "the neighborhood of Boothtown," in Shelby County, threatening a miner who had assisted in apprehending him several months earlier.

But Bart Thrasher was difficult to catch. "Thrasher has relatives in the neighborhood," the newspaper reported, "and seems in no hurry to leave. The wild rugged country makes it the best retreat he can find."

To encourage local citizens to join in the search for Thrasher, the state posted a $400 reward. Bibb County Sheriff Alonzo Bates, however, had his own plan for capturing the outlaw. Disturbed by the criticism of his department, Bates had hired professional detectives, most of whom were employees of the Birmingham Detective Company. With the assistance of local citizens called "spotters," these men studied the habits of local law-breakers in hopes of locating them and, if necessary, shooting them in cold blood. Two of these professionals—W. B. Morgan and Henry Cole—were to play key roles in the fate of the Thrasher family.

Morgan, a Birmingham detective, was on the case first. According to the Blade-Enterprise of July 24, 1890, Morgan had received word from a spotter that on a particular night Bart Thrasher would be attending a big dance at the house of a black man named Dick Thrasher, where a good supply of whiskey would be available for sale to both blacks and whites. Morgan, accompanied by a Birmingham policeman, quickly closed in on the unsuspecting desperado in the woods four miles from Woodstock. But, in the darkness outside the house, they mistook Bart's father for the outlaw and, after a desperate struggle, the policeman shot him, killing him instantly. Hearing the gunfire, "Bart and all his friends, both black and white," were said to have "fled like a howling mob to the woods and mountains."

"I feel like I was drove in to all this trouble"

For most of the next six years, Bart Thrasher remained a fugitive, although he was captured twice, and both times he escaped from the Pratt Mines Penitentiary. He was reported to have committed several highway robberies in Walker County, killing one man who resisted. With his younger brother Lish—who had been arrested for murdering a black man and had escaped from jail—Bart traveled freely between Blocton, Woodstock, Big Springs, and Horse Creek. No attempt was made to capture them, though the pair rode openly—and fully armed—on the local railroad. "The men are determined not to be taken alive," the Birmingham News commented. "They are not afraid of death and are not doing much hiding."

Pursuing Thrasher for much of this time was Detective Henry Cole, a former deputy sheriff from Jefferson County, e

Hiram Miller and Susannah Cole

Hiram Miller, who was born June 8, 1801, in South Carolina, was not found in 1870, and is probably buried in Miller Cemetery, Smith County, Mississippi, married in Pike County, Mississippi, probably in1824 to Susanna Cole, who was born October 16, 1802, in Mississippi Territory, was not found in1870, and probably was buried in Miller Cemetery, Smith County, Mississippi. She was the daughter of Mark and Hannah Spell Cole. They probably started their family in Pike County, but they had settled in the newly opened Indian Cession lands of Smith County by 1840. They lived on Cohay Creek in what was then to become the Bunker Hill settlement, but is now known as "Sullivan's Hollow." They were farmers and herdsmen.

In 1840, Hiram Miller was near brother-in-law William Carter, brother James Miller, and Clark families who had come from Pike County to Smith County. They probably settled where they did in order to be nearer the established towns of Covington County, which were in the older Indian Cession of 1805. In 1850, Hiram's family was near the families of brother-in-law Mark Cole, Jr; brother-in-law John F. Cole; brother-in-law William Carter; and brother-in-law Richard Story; as well as some of the Clark families, also related. These people brought their Baptist faith with them and established their church at Zion Hill, probably naming their new church for the Zion Hill Church in Amite County. Hiram Miller started a cemetery on his land, which became known as the Miller Cemetery. The people buried there include descendants of Hiram Miller, the Clark families, Carters, and related families. The cemetery was abandoned about 1900 and is now in a pine forest, and is known only to local residents or relatives.

Their children were as follows:

1.) Joseph William, who was born August 8, 1826, in Mississippi, died March 8, 1855, in Smith County, Mississippi, buried in Miller Cemetery, and married Martha Adeline Cole, who was born circa 1832 in Mississippi, and died after 1880. She was the daughter of John F. and Lucy Crittenden Cole and his first cousin. Their children were: Mary L; Martha S., who died young; William Anslem; and Almeda A. Their descendants lived in South Mississippi. William was clearing land when a burning tree fell on him. His family stayed on his farm, and his widow never remarried. Adeline Miller later lived with the family of her daughter Almeda King in Smith County.

2.) John Harvey, who was born October 7, 1829, in Mississippi, died January 3, 1882, and is buried near Seminary, Covington County, Mississippi, married Lucy Catherine Beavers, who was born January 23, 1839, and died January 5, 1918. Lucy was the daughter of Martin and Delila Beavers of Georgia and Mississippi. They lived for some years near the Hiram Miller home, then moved to Covington County. Children were the following: Amanda; Avey Jane Elizabeth; Joanna; Laura, who died young; Captain, who died young; William J., who died young; Lucy Caroline; Sudie, who died with her first child; Mariam; Benjamin Franklin; Nancy Louella; Ida; Thomas; and Lenora Barbara. John H. Miller served in Company H, 46th Mississippi Infantry, CSA. Descendants live in South Mississippi.

3.) James Winfield, who was born circa 1831 in Mississippi, and died after 1900, married Emily Lee, who was born in 1857 in Mississippi, and lived in Covington County. Children in 1900 were Laurana; Samuel; and Lee. An old neighbor recalled two others named Vanroe and Mattie. Apparently Winfield did not marry until very late in life.

4.) Franklin M. "Dock," who was born circa 1833 in Mississippi, and died in 1863 in Vicksburg, from measles, while in the Confederate service, Company B, 46th Mississippi Infantry, married Elizabeth Worthy, the daughter of William and Ann Elizabeth Worthy of Georgia and Mississippi. Children were the following: Joseph William; Thomas Jefferson; and Benjamin Franklin. Widow Elizabeth later married, as second wife, John Coulter and had six Coulter children.

5.) Richard Washington, who was born circa 1835 in Mississippi and died October 19, 1863, at Missionary Ridge, Tennessee, while in Confederate service. It is believed he is buried on Missionary Ridge. He was not married, so far as is known.

6.) Hannah Elizabeth "Lizzie," who was born November 27, 1836, in Mississippi and died September 22, 1913, in Mississippi, married a second cousin, Ivy Walker, who was born circa 1820, and died in1896 in Mississippi. He was the son of William and Charlotta Clark Walker. They lived the rest of their lives in Smith County, Mississippi, and the Walker children were William Rufus; Nancy; Charity; Thomas Lafayette; Ivy Waddy; Benjamin F.; William Martin; L. Theodocia; Joseph Cheatem; Martha Alice; Edward Taylor; and Pank Alson. Ivy Walker served for a short time in Company H, 46th Mississippi Infantry, CSA, but spent most of his service in the 8th Mississippi Infantry. Many Walker descendants live in Smith County today.

7.) Aaron S., who was born July 31, 1840, in Smith County, Mississippi, died in 1914 in Lamar County, Mississippi, and is buried in Lamar County, married a second cousin, Nancy Clark, who was born in 1841 in Mississippi, the daughter of James J. and Keziah Welburn Clark. There were seven children living in 1910, believed to be Wyatt; Mollie; Peter (or Lawrence); Wiley (or Joseph); Mary (or Martha); Jane; and Marion Ance. William was listed on census records, but he may have died before 1910. Aaron was a carpenter and farmer who moved about, and census records give different names for his children. There was no indication on Aaron's application for Confederate pension that he had more than one wife. He served as a private in Company H, 46th Mississippi Infantry, and in other units. He enlisted at Raleigh in February 1862 and served at Port Gibson, Champion Hill, and at Vicksburg, where he was captured and paroled. After being called up to duty again, he served at Nashville, Franklin, Allatoona Mountain, and Atlanta. He was wounded at Allatoona Mountain by a ball in the right side. He applied for pension in 1910 from Lamar County

8.) Sarah A., who was born circa 1842 in Mississippi and died May 6, 1894, in Mississippi, married her first cousin, once removed, James Jackson Clark, son of Moses and Elizabeth Miller Clark, as his second wife. Their Clark children were Mary Elizabeth; Andrew Jackson; Sally; Kizrah; Edward Winfield; Jules, who died young; Liddia Cathrine "Cassandra"; Manning; and Martha Bell. Clark descendants live in South Mississippi, many in Smith County. James had previously been married to Keziah Welburn, daughter of William and Sarah Bryant Welburn, and had moved to Smith County by 1841 with the William Welburn family. He and Keziah had children to include Nancy; William Burton; Francis Marion; and James Monroe.

9.) Martha Lenora "Nora," who was born November 16, 1843, in Mississippi, died November 3, 1904, in Smith County, Mississippi, and is buried in Liberty Cemetery, Raleigh, Mississippi, married (1) Jeptha Keyes, who was killed in the fighting at Vicksburg. The Keyes children were Benjamin H., who died young; and Nancy. Nora married (2) Daniel Francis "Frank" Hough, who was born August 4, 1843, in Jasper County, Mississippi, and died October 28, 1897, in Smith County, Mississippi. He was the son of Zeno and Charlotte Watts Hough. Hough children were Louisa T.; Laura Charlotte; Rose Ella; Elijah; Mary M.; Queen Elizabeth; Elisha J.; Luther; Rufus Franklin; and Dona Lenora. Nora Miller Keyes Hough was born in Smith County, Mississippi, and lived there her entire life. Joan Sullivan Richardson could remember when she was almost one hundred years old what she had been told about Nora Miller. Nora was a small, well-formed, strikingly attractive girl, with blue/grey eyes and black hair who married Jeptha Keyes when she was about fourteen years old. Jeptha Keyes joined a Confederate Company from Covington County and was killed in the fighting at Port Gibson. Frank Hough served in Company G, 46th Mississippi Infantry.

The three daughters, Lizzie Walker, Sarah Clark, and Nora Hough lived as neighbors early in their married lives. They continued to visit all their lives, and their children were close friends. The surviving Miller sons moved south into Covington County, and the daughters lost contact with them. Hough grandchildren knew they were related to Walker, Clark, and Cole families, and they knew that the mother of Susanna Cole Miller was a Spell. They did not know where the families came from, nor did they know the parents of Hiram Miller.

Miller lineage is Hiram and Susanna Cole Miller of South Carolina and Mississippi; James Miller, Jr, of South Carolina and Mississippi; Revolutionary War soldier James Miller, Sr, and Lydia of South Carolina and Mississippi.

Cole lineage is Susanna Cole and Hiram Miller of Mississippi; Mark and Hannah Spell Cole of North Carolina, South Carolina, and Mississippi; James and Mary (?Rentfroe) Cole of Pennsylvania, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Mississippi; probably. James Cole, Sr, of Pennsylvania and Virginia; Stephen and Elizabeth Cole of Great Britain and Pennsylvania. Submitted by Granville W. Hough, Laguna Hills, California.

The coordinates she gave me lie about 4 1/2 miles north of the Beaufort/Orangeburg District line on the 1771/75 map of Orangeburgh compiled by B. R. Miller

Sherry, sorry about the previous message. Hit the wrong button.

I appreciate your email. I truly don't think I want the entire files; I had no idea they were that large. I probably have most of it but really need to compare to be sure I have families in the right places. I will try to visit Pascagoula in the next year or so; I visit Meridian every few years and perhaps can get down during my next visit.

Perhaps you could help me about one person in particular. His name is Jacob Miller; from research and conversations with others I believe he spent some time there when the land was still part of Spanish West Florida. There may have been difficulty of some kind that no one wants to talk about. I have been told that he is a son of Michael Miller of SC, and that after a land expedition with my gr-grandfather, George Eubanks and George's brother William, along with others from SC, Jacob went on to Louisiana. I would just like to know as much as possible about this land expedition--I have found some records in American State Papers.

So if you could look for information about Jacob Miller of that time period, I would be grateful.

Would it be possible for me to obtain a copy of Four Centuries, Vol. 2, on inter-library loan?

Attached please find a letter from a Mr. Robert Wilde of Levitiown, PA. He is seeking information about the Albert Miller family. His family apparently spent time serving with Captain Miller on the ship "Rostellan".

Since I am not a native and each of you have much more historical information, could you please share with me some material I could convey to Mr. Wilde, or please write him with any information you may have. Let me know how I can help.

Thanks.

DEAR SIR/MADAM:

I am interested in locating any descendents of Albert M. Miller M.M. The address I have (CIRCA 1917) is "ROSE VILLA", Porter Street, Pascagoula, Mississippi.

My father served with Captain Miller in the sailing ship 'Rostellan' on a voyage to LE HARVE France from Philadelphia Pa. in mid-1917. The Rostellan returned to Philadelphia in September 1917

The information I have suggests this was a historically interesting voyage. I would like to share information about the voyage with Captain Millers descendents, if there are any, or with the city/county historian who might have information about Captain Millers career, particularly in 1917 and on the Rostellan.

Dear Sister Nicholls:

I'll bet you though I forgot you! I have been wrestling with your Miller genealogy, trying to get proofs and some pertinent records in my hands.

I did not find John Miller in Sabine Parish, La. in 1850, and this means he was somewhere with his family in Louisiana for that year. Thought maybe his father might have preceded him to Louisiana, and I would find them listed together. We do not have the other 1850 Louisiana Census records here in Georgia, however.

Since Brice Miller disappeared from Simpson County, Mississippi, after the 1830 Census, I supposed that he either died there (already about 60 years of age), or moved on. There is not a Will in Simpson County, and their records burned before 1834.

There is a deed in Washington Parish, Louisiana of Peter Bankston to Brice F. Miller dated 1866. This may be where John was in 1850.

It is obvious to me from the movements of the Millers out of S. C., into Hancock County, Georgia, and then to Mississippi, that John is a son of Brice Miller. I know you need a documentation on this, and have been searching for something - anything!

The only thing left to do, so far as tying this down between John and Brice, is to go to Mississippi. I do not know whether this would do much good, but the home Archives is always a better place to search than anywhere else.

I was hoping that the grandfather of Brice(James Miller) might name his grandchildren, or other relationships which would tie it down.

I just recently found I have a Frederick Miller who was in Louisiana in 1827 and died prior to 1845 there. I see you have written a book acout Hiram Miller. While working on this book did you by chance come across my Frederick Miller? I am just starting out on this line and would appreciate any help you might give me. Were they English or German? Or do you know?

We have some Houghs here in Liberty. I don't know if they are doing any family tree tracing though.

Ancestor

Dear Prof. Hough

As I promised most of you at the time you sent your ancestral data sheet, approximately 12 months ago, here is an update on the Miller Researcher Clearing House (MRCH) and it's present status.

Since starting to advertise last year, the total number of researchers on file has grown to 527. Approximately 225 of these are the result of the advertising in the Genealogical Helper. Advertising and printing costs during the year have been $139 so you can see that MRCH is not exactly going bankrupt but, if subscribers, such as yourselves, will continue your support, advertising will be expanded with larger ads in the GH and small ads in some of the less widely read (5,000 or less cir.) genealogy oriented publications. With this in mind, your dollars can be used to attract those who have somehow overlooked notices in past issues of the GH. Your continuing support dollars, now due, will help someone, maybe even yourself, to find another researcher working your line, who may have it back three or four generations further then you have.

The sucessful matching of researchers has been minimal so far, with only a handful but, I hope that we all realize that the file is going to have to continue to grow and grow before the odds of finding others depreciates, due to the millions of Millers who have preceded us.

All the publicity you can give the program, can only help. Every couple of weeks I hear from someone who says 'I seen your name on the bulletin board. Tell me about MRCH' If everyone in the file could make us known to just one other, our data base would soon pass the magical 1,000 number. Some have published notices of our little project in their Society Newsletters. It all helps.

As of this writing, my personal goal IS 1,000 Miller Researchers in the file. When that figure can be mentioned in advertising, I think that will bring responses from those who have hung back, thinking that our ancestral file has been too small for results. Perhaps true but, its been people like yourselves who have made it grow to it's present size and given us hope for four digit membership.

To those of you whom I offered free initial entry during the embryo period of 1982-3, I guess this is what I mentioned in the last paragraph of my letter about the possibility of a small

Dear Sir:

I understand you have Published a book on Millers of Covington and Smith Counties of Mississippi. Maybe you can be some help to me.

I am searching for a William Miller of Covington Co. Miss who married Miss Elizabeth Carter also of Covington Co. Miss. I know they had at least two children a Redmond Samuel (R.S.) Miller borned Apr. 15, 1852 and died Oct. 30, 1932 in Marion Co. Miss. R.S. Miller married a Dicey Dyess and they had a large family, one grandson I married. another son William, who called himself a jr. but I knew him as Uncle Will Miller. Will Miller married and I understand had a family but his last marriage was to a Allen Simmons mother. I knew Uncle Will before this wife died and saw him later, I guess he lived to be about 80 or 81 yrs of age.

Inclosed a seff-address envelope stamped. I would appreciate a reply, and many thanks for your time.

Sincerely
Lottie M. Miller

P.S. My research for 30 years has been on my line but the pass three years I have been working on my husband line since I am restricted to distant I travel I have had bad luck, I couldn't find anything at Marion Co. Miss

Court house, so many of the court house records have been burned, I do not know if it would be worth an effort to go to Covington Co. All that I have found is from the record of R. S. Miller's death certificate.

Dear Dr. Hough,

Thank you for the information you sent.

John Miller is listed in the 1840 Clarke Co, Miss Census,

1 m 20 years but under 30
1 m 60 years but under 70
1 f 20 years but under 30

Also a Michael Miller is in the same census.

1 m under 5
1 m 20 but under 30
1 f 15 but under 20

I found a deed of gift in Quitman, Miss at the Courthouse that John Miller wrote to his sons. The will was dated 4 May 1841. His sons were Michael Miller and George Miller. John Miller does not show in the 1850 Clarke Co. Census. He must have died between 1841 and the 1850 Census.

Michael and George Miller are listed in the 1850 census.

Michael Miller	38	farmer	Ga
Elizabeth Railey	25	Wife	Miss
Kasiah	5	dau.	Miss.
George Lister	3	son.	Miss
Jeremiah	8/12	son.	Miss

I found Michael Miller and Elizabeth Railey Marraige record in Washington Co, Ala. They were married the 19 Sept. 1838.

George Miller	32	farmer	Miss
Sarah	27	wife	"
Susan	7	dau	"
Milly	6	dau	"
John	4	son
William	4	son	"
James	3	son	"
Marie	1	dau	"

Michael Miller married Mary Bethane Broadhead 21 Jan. 1855 in Clarke Co. Miss.
They are listed in the 1870 Clarke Co. Census

Michael Miller	59	Ga.
Mary B.	30	Ala.
Jeremiah	19	Miss
Elli	14	"
William	12	"
Davis	10	"
Thomas	8	"
Alexander	6	"
George L.	21	"

Michael died in 1874 leaving his sons without a father. Mary must have died before her husband because I found where the judge appointed a guardian for Michael's children. All of Michael sons moved to Choctaw Co. Ala. before the 1880 census. They lived with different families.

My g-grandfather was Davis Miller and he lived in Choctaw Co. all of his life. My grandfather doesn't know anything about his grandfather Miller except for his first name.

They don't have any family records so it is hard to trace our Miller family back.

Washington Co. Ala. was formed in 1800 from the Mississippi Territory and Baldwin. When I was in the Courthouse in Washington Co., Ala. I didn't know John Miller was my gg grandfather. I hope there are more records there about him & maybe his wife.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Hough,

Enclosed you will find my Check for $10^{\underline{00}}$ for your Second Book on the "Huff" "Hough" families.

Would you please be kind enough to tell me how much it Cost you to get your book Printed? and where. My reasons for asking is that, I have gone all over Covington County and Copied all of the Cemetery's I Could find. I have been in most all of the wooded areas where we found lot of family Cem also some that are still being used. I Want these put into a book. I have them typed up.

Second I have almost finished my husband family tree which is the Rogers & Duckworth from S.C. to Miss. I would like some day to ~~Re~~ Publish this family tree.

Your Cousin Mrs. West Sigerfield of Gulfport, Miss. has been helpful to me on the Rogers

Rogers line. I did a family Chart of over 200 families on this line and Sold them for $6.00 Per Copy. I Still have a few if you would like one.

Now to your Books, your first one listed a Hester Padget age 60 living next Door to Joseph Duckworth. Joseph Duckworth + Mary Green were the Grand Parentes of my mother in Law. She was Charity Cassander Johnston and Married William G. Rogers.

I surely do need more information on Hester Padgett. She was Sister to Joseph Duckworth. You mentioned a Learned Padgett as being her Grand Son. Do you have any other information ~~on~~ him. I Believe he married a Miller. Am I write?

Hope to hear for you Soon

Dear Dr. and Mrs. Hough:

Your information sent to me in the form of part of your family history was a definite help but not in the manner you expected. You see, that "Baptist minister named Broadus" was an Entrekin descendant so you've provided me with additional information about this wife. All I had previously was that her name was Amanda Cole and that they had no children. I wonder if you know anything further about them. Since they both had children by a previous marriage they must have raised both families together. The man was Matthew Hiram Broadus born 1854 in Mississippi, son of Eli Broadus born 1823 in Mobile Alabama and Emmaline Entrekin born before 1830 probably in Mississippi daughter of John Bryant Entrekin born 1801 in Georgia and Matilda Stanford born 1801 in Georgia. Eli Broadus was probably the son of Moses Broadus born 1794 in Maryland. One son of Matthew Hiram Broadus and his first wife Adline Demaris Yates, John Quincy Broadus married my husband's aunt Flenorah Josephine Entrekin, her father David Lemuel Entrekin although I don't know if he was ordained did a lot of preaching for the Baptist church. I don't suppose you would have any information on Matthew's first wife. All I know is that her parents were Basil Yates b. N. Car and Martha Bullock.

Since there were so many familiar names in your "book" I went through my Entrekin family history thoroughly and I've made some notes that might be of interest. If any of this rings any bells I can probably provide more information as to the Entrekin side.

My husband's Mixon ancestry is further back. His great great grandmother Mary Mixon born in Ga in 1802 dau of Abram Mixon b. 1774 in S.Car and Elizabeth Joyce b. 1774 in S. Car. Abram Mixon is son of Michael Mixson Rev. Sol. Elizabeth Joyce dau of William Joyce. Mary Mixon married Lewis Gill b. 1792 Georgia 2/12/1827. If I remember correctly they married in Lawrence Co. Miss.

I hope some of the above will be of some help to you and please let me know if I can provide any further details.

Thanks a lot.

Yours very truly,

Pauline Entrekin

I have a first cousin once removed in your area. Chuck Allen. He a retired Colonel and the last address I have is 3821 Patrero, Fullerton. I thought that name rang a bell.

Dear Mrs. Nicholls:

Enclosed is my report on your MILLER lineage.

As you will see, Brice Miller has to be the father of John Miller, since he was the only one in Georgia who left the State before 1820 and found in Mississippi. Bazel Miller also lived in Hancock County, Georgia before he moved to Baldwin County. I mention this because of the similarity of names between Bazel Miller and your William Bazel Miller.

A copy of the deed which I have enclosed of the heirs of Alexander Miller mentions Jane, relict of Samuel Barron. Because of the way the deed reads, I assumed that Jane was a daughter of Alexander Miller, wife of Samuel Barron. There were several Samuel Barrons in Georgia. One, Samuel Barron, born 1749, died in 1802, married Annie Brazil.

I notice that in some places references made to Bazel Miller are also spelled "Brazil Miller". The Barron and Brazil families, then, are closely related with the Millers. Sometimes going further back into the lineage discloses such pertinent relationships.

I have already searched the North Carolina wills and other records for the Millers, and suspect that they came from Virginia, settling in North Carolina for a time, and then moved into Georgia.

Whether an estate record will ever be found on Brice Miller to provide substantial proof that his son was John Miller, is unknown. From the movements of Brice Miller, it is obvious to me that he is the father.

There are some other records which I would like to examine, to see if anything further can be found on the Millers in Georgia, and I think the Virginia records should be gone into to try and trace them further. I have found records in the past which named grandchildren and even great-grandchildren which tied genealogies together which otherwise would not have been done.

On next page she just mention she would like to Continue & find Proof.

Dear Mr. Wilde-

It was so very nice to speak with you about your research concerning your father and Capt. Albert M. Miller of Pascagoula.

Your letter of 7/12/91 to Chief Executive City of Pascagoula was most interesting. ("Tommy") Thomas C. Wixon, Jr. 3010 Washington Avenue, Pascagoula received a copy from Elizabeth Bensey, (member of City Grants Dept) to the Preservation Commission - Tommy is a member of this Commission - belongs to the Historical Society of Jackson County and the Jackson County Genealogical Society (he's also Editor of our Society Journal) as well as many other Civic Organizations.

I am the secretary of the Jackson County Genealogical Society. All of us are deeply interested in any and all History - Past and Present - We strive to preserve old records, plots, and items of historical importance in our Community as well as other Communities State and Federal Concerns as well.

Tommy asked me (I was born 15 Jan 1927 and have lived in Pascagoula all my life!) if I could remember a Miller Family of years gone by - I could not at first. He said your letter mentioned 1917 CA and that the family lived on Porter Street. There is no longer a Porter Street, but I had seen the name on an old map when that part of town was called Scranton - 1898 I believe is the date of the map.

The Baptist Church is still on the Corner, but the street is now Live Oak Avenue. When I saw this location, an article of several years ago came to my mind about "Fish Bait" Miller, actually William Mosely Miller. The house he grew up in was remodeled and restored by W. L. (Billy) Witcher. He lives there today it is 1007 Live Oak Avenue, Pascagoula 39567. He too has a beautiful rose garden. He told me that he did not know at the time he purchased the house that Capt Miller had a lovely rose garden there also, and that he had named the house "Rose Villa".

Billy was kind enough to share copies of a newspaper article done about the house and some others items about "Fish Bait" Billy is a member of First Baptist Church who visits my husband, Francis, (Francis had a severe stroke April 7, 1990 and has been confined pretty much to the bed since with paralysis of the left side!) every Monday. He brings tapes of sermons, hymns, and 40's and 50's music he has recorded to share with shut-ins — He and I graduated from the same High School in Pascagoula in 1945—

He also brought me a copy of a letter from Frances Miller Suddarth, 8409 Rainey Avenue, Hapeville, Ga. 30354. She is the youngest daughter of Capt. Miller. See Copy enclosed.

Since I spoke with you the ~~other~~ night my husband's Cousin, Gladys Sadler, visited us and I was discussing the co-incidence that Billy had info on this family when "Mrs Pat" she knew the daughter, Annette (Mrs. P. G. Bookout) who lives at 22531 Susana Avenue, Torrence, CA 90505, She and Annette went to school together and Gladys visited the Millers often - She graduated in 1932. Gladys said that Annette had passed through here a couple of months ago on her way to Florida and contacted her for a brief visit. Annette and Gladys (1st husband Jule) married boys who were here in the Coast Guard Service and were transferred to several bases together Gladys says that Viola another daughter of Capt. Miller's lives, she thinks in or near Atlanta - possibly near Frances.

Billy said he thinks there is a granddaughter or some relative also living in Pennsylvania —

I do hope you eventually contact as many of the relatives as you can you know how no ones tells the same story - the same way!!

I volunteer in the Genealogy Section of our Pascagoula Branch Public Library and would appreciate copies of your findings so that we can file them in our Family History Vertical File Section. Also would appreciate a Xerox copy of any Photo you may have. Perhaps the Miller Family may also have a picture of your father and have been unable to identify. Who knows?

It's been a joy to help you in your research. I anticipate hearing from you and whatever success and findings you may enjoy. I plan to visit the Library as soon as I can to check out the newspaper for info on Capt. Miller and possibly trip you mentioned to and from Philadelphia in 1917—

I am filing copies of your letter and info sent to you in our vertical files at the Library. If I can be of further assistance please let me know—

Sincerely,
Katie' Sterron Steen

Horn Issues Statement To Voters Of County

To the Citizens of George County

On the first day of March, you [illegible] ballot, a Sheriff and Tax Collector for George County, to fill the unexpired term caused by the greatest ragedy in the history of our County.

After this vacancy occured, George County was in an extremely erious need of some one to enforce he laws of the State, more especially, on the criminal side of the quesion. Our sheriff, Mr. J. E. Nelson vas shot in the performance of his luty required of him as sheriff, by he law of the land, to protect you nd me.

It became apparent, that a sheriff nd deputy sheriff needed to be apointed, to step into the place of the ne who had fallen in line of duty, nd carry on until an election could be held.

After many others refused, I was alled upon to act as deputy sheriff. The situation was critical and dangerous. I realized the job was dangerous to perform, but I also realized that some one had this job to do The question came to my mind; nust I step into the other man's hoes and carry on the best I could, or shall I say no, get someone else t looks too tough for me. I felt ike as a good citizen and taxpayer, should help out in a time like we vere passing through, and I didn't hink I would be living up to my obigation I owed to my country by reusing to give what assistance I ould at this time. It took a great leal of intestinal fortitude or just lain guts to take over in this critial moment. I accepted the deputy ob and I've tried to carry on as best I could.

I feel like, and I am sure you eople can set it the same way, that f anyone deserves the sheriff's office for at least the remainder of he teerm, it is I.

I have two opponents, and they re splendid fellows, and they each leserve a fair consideration, but lon't you think, after I have helped

The return trip was made by Crawford, Macon, Scooba, Meridian, Waynesboro, State Line and Leakesville. Got to Lucedale about five P. M. One flat tire and some rain and muddy roads were the only things to mar the return trip.

Transportation was furnished, but those who went paid their own expenses while at the Club Congress. However, the money was well spent for the 4-H club members were very much in evidence on the campus, in entertainments, and contests, and much can be expected of those who made the sacrifice to attend this state meeting.

CARD OF THANKS

We are overwhelmed with gratitude towards those who so graciously came came to our assistance during the recent illness and death of our son, Oren.

Through your timely sympathy and heartfelt interest everything was done for him that it was humanly possible to do and none can know and appreciate more the real meaning of "Friendship" than his mother and I. Your unexcelled kindness has done much to assuage the acuteness of our grief and has made us realize more than ever before that Christianity is a real and living force and abides in the hearts of the good people of Lucedale.

May God's richest blessings ever be with you.

Sincerely
B. C. Miller and family.

A very pretty wedding was quietly solemnized in Ocean Springs in the parsonage of the Baptist church Sunday evening, August 25, at 6 o'clock, when Miss Lillie N. Miller was married to Robert B. Renfroe of Moss Point. The impressive single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. James Sullivan in the presence of only immediate relatives.

The same committee that presented a resolution to the board at their last meeting, was kept on duty, with instructions to find out more about the bridges, what it costs to maintain them, how much revenue they bring in, etc.

An interesting program was promised for the next meeting. There were no visitors, but several absentees.

PASCAGOULA BORN GIRL NOW A LICENSED AVIATOR

The Ruff-Nek News, an oil paper published in Compton, California, gives the following account of the recent licensing as air pilot, of Miss Aline Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Miller, who lived in Pascagoula some years ago. Miss Miller's photo headed the story, which is as follows:

"Not the only live-wires in this oil game are men, not by a jugfull!

"One especially, Aline Miller, who is as much to her company as is the "K" in W-K-Y! Although Aline could hardly be called a "woman," so young and tiny and all that, is she—she has pep and wit enough to out-do many women.

"Born in Pascagoula, Mississippi, (believe it or not) she was its leading citizen for one year. Then she moved to El Paso where she escapaded till coming to Los Angeles in 1927, and has been with the Wieman-Kammerer-Wright Co., Inc., practically since its inception. She has raised it from a pup.

"With such a send-off who wouldn't go up higher, so "Little Missy" took up aviation and last week received her pilot's license. Such a happy kid you never did see! Fly! I'll say! And she is the proud possessor of an airplane which is christened "The Gaga Bird," meaning the "bird of luck."

"And if the oil industry isn't yet sufficiently on the map, Aline and her Gaga Bird (or someone's else Gaga) will sure put it there! So, "eyes front" to Aline!"

FIRE DESTROYS GARAGE AND CAR LAST FRIDAY MORNING

On Friday morning, March 14, at 1:35 o'clock, a fire alarm was turned in when the garage on the Mayo place on Grant street was discovered ablaze. The house is occupied by Commandant C. W. Dean, of the Coast Guard base, and his car was in the garage. Both the car and garage were burned to the ground, the alarm having been turned the main structure. All the lumber used in the pier is dressed cypress, and will be painted when the pier is completed, which it is hoped will be done by May first.

The park proper has been completely cleared of all underbrush and trash, low places filled in, the surface drained, the roadway into the park graded, and the parking space and seawall edge of the park sodded and planted in lawn grass, making a most attractive recreation spot. It is worth the while of citizens to pay the park a visit and see the improvements being made.

DEATH OF VISITOR FROM INDIANA

Mr. Amos Bowsher, aged 87 years, died suddenly on last Friday morning, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Dunten on River Road, just above the city limits. The remains were taken Friday night to Topeka, Indiana, former home of deceased, for interment, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Dunten and Mrs. J. Oliver Cole accompanying the body to Indiana.

Mr. Bowsher was spending the winter at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Dunten, as had been his custom for the past several years. On Thursday he appeared to be in good health for one of his age. That afternoon, while he was alone on the place, he was chopping up some kindling, when nearby neighbors noted that he sat down rather hurriedly, and seemed to make no effort to arise. In a few moments he was noticed to fall over. Neighbors ran to the old gentleman's assistance and took him into the house. He never regained consciousness, and died Friday morning. Paralysis was given by physicians as the immediate cause of his death.

In commemoration of the Resurrection of our Savior, Easter Sunday is yearly celebrated by the faithful. It occurs at a season when all nature is putting forth a lifting aspect of gaiety to delight; a renewal of cordiality and friendship so essential to the happiness of mankind. The observation of Easter dates from the time of the Apostles and is regarded as the gala day in the Christian churches.

Judge James B. Davis, of Denny, was here Monday attending the Board of Supervisors. Judge Davis called at the DEMOCRAT-STAR office and left $2 for another year's subscription to the "Old Reliable," saying he could not understand how any citizen of Jackson county could do without his own county paper. The Judge informed us that a few days ago he brought down with his shot gun a 25-pound wild turkey. It measured four feet and one inch long. In other words it was a "whopper" for the time of year.

Mr. Wm. Alex. Henslee, who for the past five years has been connected with the mechanical department of the DEMOCRAT-STAR office, left last Friday morning for Rayne, La., having leased the Tribune outfit of that place, a five-column eight-page "patent inside," published every Saturday, at $1 a year. Mr. Henslee is a reliable and fairly good printer, faithful and industrious. As this is his first venture on his own hook running a newspaper, we hope the experiment may prove a success. His family will leave here for Rayne this week.

Escatawpa is so inviting a place that the reporter always wends his way in its direction with the greatest pleasure. The drive over the level country is very easy and invigorating. Last Friday week he was received at the home of Mr. R. D. Miller, who is a timber contractor, and has the work of floating sunken timbers called "deadheads," where he was hospitably and most delightfully entertained. Mr. Miller has a most interesting family—his wife and four children—Master Jimmie, a school lad of 13; Homer, Lulu and Damon. Mr. Miller is quite an agriculturalist—produces sugar cane, grain and vegetables in abundance for home use. His father, 82 years of age, lives a few miles distant on his farm, which speaks well for the longevity of that section of Jackson county.

QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN.

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are delighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords. When speaking of this Mr. D. N. Sinks, of Troy, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Geo. F. Parsons & Co., druggists of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommend it so highly that I bought a bottle. I WAS SOON RELIEVED OF ALL PAIN. I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For sale by McVea Young, Scranton and J. W. Stewart, Moss Point, druggists.

Camped under the cooling shade of lovely oaks in a most beautiful spot right on the banks of the river, where mosquitoes are almost unknown, and where telephone bells and auto horns and paved streets and white collars are forgotten, and the news of “Ma” Ferguson's defeat, Mussolini's latest edict or the religious troubles of Mexico are actually taboo, these gentlemen are spending a week of sybaritic ease and enjoyment. The natives of the surrounding country are acting as hosts and seeing that they have all things necessary to their comfort, as well as guides to show them where the big fellows are, and Mack Morgan has been with them, sort of acting as host in the name of Jackson county, assisted by Dr. Denson, the supervisor from that district, and it is certain that these gentlemen will have one happy restful week—and will want to repeat the experience at another time.

This paper extends them a hearty welcome and hopes their brightest anticipation of a glorious vacation will be realized.

The following is a roster of the party: W. T. Pate, auto dealer, W. F. Bond, state superintendent of education, Claude Bennett, supervisor of High schools, of Jackson; Bailey Scheumpert, superintendent of schools, West Point; C. W. There will be few contests in the chancery districts, according to information received here. In the ninth district, Judge Emmett N. Thomas is not seeking re-election and James Williams of Indianola is a candidate. Others are expected in the race.

In the ten counties in which county judges are to be elected there will be a series of warm contests, a number of the authors of the county court act running for the office.

Home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miller Destroyed. Outhouses Are Saved.

At 11:45 o'clock last Sunday fire was discovered in the roof of the home of Mr. T. J. Miller at Orange Grove, and despite the efforts of a large crowd of citizens and the fire departments of the twin cities, the home was soon a mass of ruins.

The fire alarm was sounded at both Moss Point and Pascagoula and the members of the two departments responded promptly with their trucks and other apparatus. It is said the Pascagoula truck made the run from the city hall in Pascagoula to the Miller home, about 8 miles, in 14 minutes. The house was in full blaze when the fire boys reached the scene, in fact the roof was nearly ready to fall in, and they turned their attention to saving the barn, the servants house and garage and as much of the household effects as they could. These were saved including about one-half of the furniture in the house. A water supply was not available for the fire engines, but the chemicals were used with good effect on the outbuildings above mentioned.

The fire is supposed to have caught in the roof from the kitchen flue, as there was a hot fire in the kitchen stove, where the Sunday dinner was being cooked. Many citizens of Orange Grove, Kreole, Moss Point and Pascagoula responded to the alarm and there was no lacking of help on the scene and everything that could be humanly done to stay the flames was done.

The Miller home was a large, two-story frame building, well finished and furnished, built several years ago when the best quality of lumber could be procured, and is said to have been worth from eight to ten thousand dollars. The home had all modern conveniences, including electric light and running water, and was handsomely furnished.

Mr. Miller was in Pascagoula on Tuesday, and stated that he estimated his loss at ten thousand dollars, on which there was insurance of five thousand dollars on the house and three thousand on the furniture.

Family Reunion Of J. J. Miller Family At Old Homesite

A re-union of members of the family and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Miller was celebrated in Escatawpa Sunday, September 15, at the home of Henry C. Miller, near the old family homestead. There were 49 members of the family attending.

The group met in the morning and at 10 o'clock they attended services and worshipped in the Latter Day Saints church. This is the old home and family church and is known as "The Little White Church in the Pines by the Side of the Road."

At noon the entire family gathered around a large table spread with the finest of foods. After a song, "America," led by Mrs. Aubrey Miller of Mobile, prayer was offered by Rev. N. L. Booker of Vancleave and then all enjoyed a fine feast.

Members of the immediate family present were Rev. A. G. Miller and family of Vancleave; Eaton E. Miller and family; Frank Miller and family; Daniel Miller and family and Aubrey Miller and family, all of Mobile; Edward Miller and family of Kreole; Charlie and Henry C. Miller of Escatawpa; Mannie Gill and family of Escatawpa; Mrs. Myrtle Moe and family of Ocean Springs.

The groups voted unanimously to make the gathering an annual event. A. G. Miller was elected to have full charge of arrangements.

Special guests for this occasion were N. L. Booker, D. W. Sherman and A. N. Barnes.

The bulk of the circulation of these magazines and newspapers has been confined principally to the Central-West section of the country. Believing, however, that the eyes of the entire nation are on the Southland, and that the clear-thinking people of every state in the Union are looking to this great territory of milder climates and greater opportunities, this Railroad, some months ago, inaugurated a campaign of advertising in magazines of general circulation, such as The Saturday Evening Post, The Literary Digest, The National Geographic Magazine, and Review of Reviews

These advertisements will run regularly throughout the entire year, and those which have appeared have brought inquiries from every state in the Union. These inquiries are being promptly and intelligently answered, and it is the belief of the management of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad that the South—particularly that part of the South served by "The Old Reliable"—will show remarkable and uninterrupted population increases.

Prosperity comes with increased population and this Railroad—the first great North-and-South trunk line of the nation to adopt national advertising—is doing its part to build the community in which you live.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our thanks to all those who were so kind to us on the occasion of the burning of our home last Sunday. Especially is our gratitude extended to the members of the Pascagoula and Moss Point Fire Departments who so promptly responded to the call and worked so valiantly to save our out houses and furniture; and to the neighbors who lent every assistance they could in our hour of trouble. Friends, we heartily thank you.

Respectfully,

CARD OF THANKS.

It is with sincere appreciation that we thank our many friends for their kindness and ministrations shown us during the long illness and death of our beloved husband and father, Mr. S. P. We appreciate the sympathy shown us, and may God's blessings rest on them.

Respectfully,

The ceremony was solemnized on Wednesday, June 15, at the parsonage of the Central Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. W. N. Dodds, officiating.

This announcement was received here by Mrs. A. M. Miller, Albert's mother, as well as by many friends of the groom in this, his boyhood home, where he attended the public schools and has many friends, especially of the younger set. He is now bookkeeper in M. S. C. W., the big state girls' college in that city, where he met his bride.

The newly weds made a short honeymoon trip to Mobile, where they were met by Mrs. Miller, Albert's mother, at the home of one of her daughters.

Circuit Court for this county convenes here on the 4th Monday, the 22nd day of April. We predict it will be a hot number.

A business will not prosper without advertising any more than the old-fashioned mill wheel will run without water.

Mr. C. Nelson and daughter, Miss Nelsena, accompanied by Miss Ella Krebs, left Monday for New Orleans on a visit of a day.

The English sparrows are nesting in the "historical tree," on Krebs avenue. It seems these little birds are not afraid of being hanged.

As long as cows and horses are allowed to run at large on our streets it is no use to spend money in trying to make decent sidewalks.

Mr. L. P. Hakinjosh and daughter, little Miss Vera, of New Orleans, are visiting Orange Grove of Mr. S. K. Konns and family.

There is a popular old saying that good will abide with you throughout the year if you wear something fresh and new on Easter morn.

Rev. B. L. Mitchell will preach in the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and every Sunday thereafter until further notice.

The following notice was found sticking on a market house on Delmas avenue Saturday morning: "We have come to a close at last."

Inspectors of Hulls and Boilers Samuel Taylor and Eugene O'Brien, of Mobile, were here inspecting the tug Mary Louise. She passed O. K.

Mr. Wm. Alex. Henslee, who for the past five years has been connected with the mechanical department of the DEMOCRAT-STAR office, left last Friday morning for Rayne, La., having leased the Tribune outfit of that place, a five-column eight-page "patent inside," published every Saturday, at $1 a year. Mr. Henslee is a reliable and fairly good printer, faithful and industrious. As this is his first venture on his own hook running a newspaper, we hope the experiment may prove a success. His family will leave here for Rayne this week.

Escatawpa is so inviting a place that the reporter always wends his way in its direction with the greatest pleasure. The drive over the level country is very easy and invigorating. Last Friday week he was received at the home of Mr. R. D. Miller, who is a timber contractor, and has the work of floating sunken timbers called "deadheads," where he was hospitably and most delightfully entertained. Mr. Miller has a most interesting family—his wife and four children—Master Jimmie, a school lad of 13; Homer, Lulu and Damon. Mr. Miller is quite an agriculturalist—produces sugar cane, grain and vegetables in abundance for home use. His father, 82 years of age, lives a few miles distant on his farm, which speaks well for the longevity of that section of Jackson county.

QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN.

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are delighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords. When speaking of this Mr. D. N. Sinks, of Troy, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Geo. F. Parsons & Co., druggists of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommend it so highly that I bought a bottle. I WAS SOON RELIEVED OF ALL PAIN. I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For Sale by McVea Young, Scranton and J. W. MR. T. J. MILLER.

After a lingering illness, three months of which time he had been under treatment of skilled physicians at the Mobile Infirmary, Mr. T. J. Miller of Orange Grove, died early Monday morning in Mobile.

Coming to Jackson county thirty-one years ago when a youth of 24 years, Mr. Miller located first at Big Point, where he was established in the turpentine business. A number of years later Mr. Miller built a turpentine mill at Orange Grove under the name of T. J. Miller's Mill, which has been operating since, being one of the three larger mills now running in this vicinity.

He was twice married, first to Miss Kate Herrington and to this union one son, Leslie Miller, was born. Following her death Mr. Miller was united in marriage to Miss Stella Murray of Orange Grove. He was the son of the late Tom Miller of Brewton, Ala., a wealthy lumberman.

Accompanied by his wife and his little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Miller, and their little daughter, his remains were carried from Mobile to Brewton, Ala., his boyhood home, and interred beside his parents.

Besides his immediate family he is survived by a number of brothers and sisters.

Among those who went up to Mobile to be with Miller's bereaved family during the day Monday were Mr. Lewis Roberts and family, Mrs. Gus Roberts, Mrs. A. J. Murray and Mr. C. R. Childress.

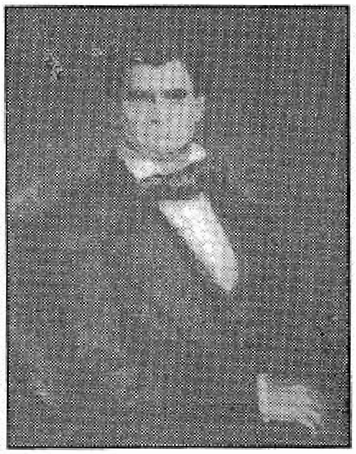
James Miller - 1795 - Jefferson County, Mississippi.



James Miller
1795-1852
Portrait by unknown artist
circa 1835

James Miller was born in Jefferson County Mississippi on January 11, 1795, the son of Robert and Sarah Cole Miller.

He married Catherine Sarah Ann Moser at Pine Ridge, Mississippi on August 19, 1830. They had six children - James, Sarah, Elizabeth Jane, Laura, Emma, and Kate. Elizabeth Jane and Emma were the only two to live to adulthood. Sadly Kate died at age 12 and the other three died as infants.

Elizabeth Jane married Henry Winbourne Drake, son of the Rev. Benjamin Michael Drake. Emma married Dr. James M. Moore.

The Millers both were born in Mississippi but spent most of their lives at their plantation home "Waterproof" near the town of Waterproof, Louisiana.

James Miller served his country in the War of 1812. It was written in his obituary "As a citizen he was ever faithful to his obligations." He was among the first citizens of Concordia and Tensas Parishes to serve on the Levee Board.Even as early as 1830 efforts were being made to construct levees to control the flooding of the Mighty Mississippi River.

Due to the flooding and low lands of Louisiana there were very few cemeteries. Many Louisiana residents were buried on the steep bluffs of Mississippi.

James Miller died of pneumonia on February 14, 1852, at his residence. He was laid to rest on the steep bluff overlooking the Mississippi River at the Natchez City Cemetery. Carved on his tombstone is a hand pointing to Heaven and the words "Born in Jefferson Co. Miss." His wife, all six children, two sons-in-law, several grandchildren, and his mother-in-law also rest in the Miller Family plot.

In July 1995 James Miller was honored by the Governor C. C. Claibourne Chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, by the placing of a marker at his grave commemorating his service in the War of 1812.

Descendants of James Miller who are members of the First Families of Mississippi are: Mary Bondurant, Cathy McHugh, Catherine Prince, and Catherine Ruth Prince.

Biography:

William Mosley (Fish Bait) Miller, a big minnow

By MURPHY GIVENS

"Operator, give me number 202—225-3505. I would like to talk to Mr. William Mosley Miller."

The man had just finished eating his lunch at his desk, a usual custom, and had chased away 16 youngsters from Houston who were cluttering up his office.

"There's no Mr. Miller around here. Just call me Fish Bait."

First off, we asked Fish Bait about a story that occupied some two pages in the Washington Post a month ago about his successes, his power and glory as House Doorkeeper.

"That was a great story," said Fish Bait. "All it cost me was one breakfast (an order of bacon and eggs and hash-browns and coffee with one sugar) and a lunch the next day, which consisted of a hamburger, order of fries and a vanilla milk shake."

There you have Fish Bait Miller. If he runs into Washington Post reporter William Gildea in the hereafter, he'll be able to tell him how he likes his eggs cooked and how he drinks his coffee.

Fish Bait is a master of detail. He learned it at the Palace Pharmacy, now razed, at the corner of Delmas Avenue and Magnolia. He was a soda jerk, curb-hop and regular gopher for eight years before he went to Washington and made a name for himself with his agreeable knack of waiting on people.

Fish Bait will readily admit he plays the Second Banana. And it has made him a success on Capitol Hill, where everyone ing the art of holding 19 ice cream cones in one hand and also the juggling ability of slipping a scoop of ice cream into the air and catching it in a cone. He also practiced until he could hold 12 Coke glasses at the same time.

In a brief tenure at the J&K Drugstore (named after owners

Jeff Davis County, we drove along a gravel road between two cotton patches. The cotton was in full bloom and Fish Bait remarked, 'My, they sure do grow a lot of okra up here.' "

Colmer was elected and he took Fish Bait along for the ride to Washington, where he became ensconced in the Capitl mailroom in 1933.

"Me and Roosevelt came up here to save the country," Fish Bait said. "He's now in heaven and I'm still puttering around down here."

He hadn't been in Washington long, Fish Bait said, when he received a letter for Mr. Colmer, but addressed to Fish Bait.

"We got a letter from a constit-uent," Fish Bait said he told Colmer. He then showed the young congressman the letter, in which the man said he couldn't remember Colmer's name, but he did remember Fish Bait.

"He (Colmer) took that letter and made me promise to never tell the story," Fish Bait said, laughing. "I've been telling it ever since, ever chance I get."

Fish Bait moved steadily up the ladder until he became Doorkeeper in 1947.

He is now recognized as one of the most colorful and familiar characters in Washington.

Fish Bait says the computer has his $40,000 a year salary confused and pays him $39,999.96, four cents short. "I tell that whenever I make a speech and you'd be surprised how many people come up and give me four cents. I made 80 cents that way last year."

The flamboyant, flopeared Fish Bait has been a Washingtonian these past 40 years, but he still considers himself a Pascagoulan and a Mississippian.

He talked of his childhood days when he delivered groceries by horse-drawn wagon, when he went swimming "where the water was clear" at Orange Grove and the times he went night floundering in the Gulf.

"There's no place in the world like Pascagoula," he said. "I don't give a hoot who says it ain't."

Entrenched solidy in his job as Doorkeeper of the House, Fish Bait entertains no thoughts of returning to Pascagoula.

As the Washington Post reporter wrote: Gerald Ford said not long ago to Richard Nixon in Miller's presence, "Mr. President, he was here when we got here and he'll probably be here after we're gone."

It was the end of the interview and William Mosley Miller said, "Hey, don't forget to send me a copy of the story."

"Goodby, Fish Bait."

Only fit for fishbait, Miller now earns $40,000

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following Sunday Emphasis column is by Craddock Goins, a retired former White House correspondent, who writes occasionally for The New Orleans Times Picayune.)

By CRADDOCK GOINS

WASHINGTON — The King of England may not enter the House of Commons without an invitation. It is not quite that bad for the President of the United States, but still Richard Milhouse Nixon cannot open his mouth in the Congress until he has been presented by a stubby, jug-eared man from the Mississippi Gulf Coast named William Mosely (Fishbait) Miller.

Through him he has to gain parliamentary acceptance in what is widely known as the world's greatest deliberative body. Even then the President cannot take another step without yielding himself to the custody of that short-legged man with sea-booming boice who likes to call himself "a glorified flunky."

"ANYHOW, FLOORWALKER or public flim-flammer, Fishbait Miller has lit the Capitol scene with the most sparkling personality the Congress has known in the memory of old-timers. He is the only man who ever interrupts congressional procedure with his role in parliamentary prerogative.

This dropout from the Perkinston Junior College is the escort the House of Representatives provides for the visiting chief executive. Fishbait is the visiting chief executive. Fishbait is the chief doorkeeper.

"Just the doorkeeper," a congressman said, "when he takes the floor he tasks the show."

Even after the president receives floor — privilege clearance from this former Pascagoula soda skeet, he does not move under the crossed high spears of pageantry, with trumpet blasts and uniformed honor guards. Before he can open his act he is halted by Fishbait at a point deep in the back of the house — so far back he is invisible to many in the prestigious assembly of congressmen, cabinet members and supreme court justices.

DURING THE PAUSE members of the house press gallery, who have the only good view of the scene, can lift collective ears to a performance that has given them sparkling flashes of stylized individuality in two decades of one-man showmanship. In that pause Fishbait takes a deep breath, stretches to his full 64½ inches, pushes out a pouter-pigeon breast and lets fly with his eight-word star liner:

"Mistuhhhh, Speakuhhhh, the prez-ident of the U-nited Staaaates!"

Then he is a blend in majesty and merriment. A look of sly mischief crowds the corners of his mouth as he strides regally from the scene. As he leaves, the saltwater twang of a born showman still rings over the house to let everybody know that God is on his throne, the devil is on his back, pomposity is in open flight, and the keeper of the keys has everything under control. Then the president is on his own. Since Fishbait has spoken, the president now may have his say.

"How long," cried a flabbergasted congressional freshman from New England one day, "has this sort of thing been going on!"

WELL, IT STARTED after Rep. William M. Colmer was elected to the 37rd Congress from Pascagoula in 1932. He took to Washington a scrawny youngster who had chauffeured him in his race. Little Willie Miller was so skimpy that in applying for a job in a drugstore he was told, "Why, you aren't fit for anything but fishbait!" That name stuck so long that few in Congress know his full name. However, his ebullient personality promises to fix that nickname so enduringly in living Americana as to link it with Casey Jones, Steamboat Bill, Johnny Appleseed and the Kilroy who was almost everywhere but Capitol Hill.

FISHBAIT MILLER
Pascagoulan makes good

Specifically, this show within a show has been going on since 1947. By that time Fishbait's flair and flourish had become so effective he had worked up through minor jobs such as house messenger, mail runner and assistant to the sergeant-at-arms and then became elected chief doorkeeper. He has held that job since, except for the Republican majority years of 1953-54 when he dropped to doorkeeper for the minority.

FOR 20 YEARS he himself has been presented to many world celebrities, has been photographed with movie and tv stars and has received testimonials from men in ranks up to the Pope. So presidents do not awe him. He hit the scene when Roosevelt was in the White House, stayed in business one way or another through the tenures of Harry Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson. Now he is rattling along with a second Republican regime.

Flunky? Representative Colmer demurs. "I myself live in Fishbait's reflected glory," he said.

His booming voice has heralded kings, princes, prime ministers, astronauts and assorted other world figures. Only once did his showmanship run away with him. Then he broke into a room where Adlai Stevenson was in solemn leave-taking with men who had backed his unsuccessful bid for the nomination at the 1960 Democratic Convention. He had the arm of the nominee as he shouted in his grandiloquent manner:

"Mistuhhhh Speakuhhhh, the new prez-i-dent of the U-nited Staaaates!"

THAT EMBARRASSMENT for John F. Kennedy was forgiven in time by everybody except by Fishbait himself. He still mourns that gaucherie.

But with so many friends in public life he now can grace tides of public trials with the studied grace of one unbothered by status and acclaim. In the 1969 congressional salary raises Fishbait was lifted from $29,500 to $40,000 a year, just $2,500 less than a congressman draws, even more than the salaries of men heading large industries.

He has sumptuous first-floor offices with a private secretary and many trained assistants — 340 doormen, messengers, pages, barbers, clerks, janitors. He draws up time table for the joint session of Congress, takes important messages from the house to the Senate. He handles tickets for the house press gallery and supervises the collection and bailing of accumulated house wastepaper, which can amount to as much as $2,000 a month for the national treasury.

"Today," wrote Donald Smith, in the Sunday section of The Washington Star, "Fishbait's office is the envy of many freshmen congressmen. It is richly carpeted and furnished with plush black leather . . . Not bad for a kid from Pascagoula, Miss., where people used to say he wasn't good for anything but fishbait. That name adds color to his personality, which is his stock in trade."

'MISTAH SPEAKUH . . .'

The Man Whom Six Presidents Called 'Fish Bait'

By EDGAR POE
(T-P Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON — William Mosley Miller, who has witnessed and to a degree been a part of 42 years of stirring history in Washington, and has been affectionately called "Fish Bait" by six presidents, is the "hottest" subject in the nation's capital these days.

Six book publishers plus movie people and magazine writers have been clamoring for his attentions since the sensational "upset" on Capital Hill at the start of the new year when the young Democrat reformers teamed up with some oldsters to oust him as doorkeeper of the House of Representatives.

Miller, known to millions of Americans, and the man who made "Mistah Speakuh, the President of the United States" the most famous introductory line of all time, now appears assured of some kind of place in the history of the U.S. Capitol.

Ruth Hagy, a New York literary agent, told the Times-Picayune that six book publishing companies are vying for the publishing rights. Miss Hagy said she expected to award the contract to the highest bidder.

Miss Hagy said Frances Spatz Leighton of Washington would write the book. Miss Leighton, among others, penned the memoirs of Jacqueline Kennedy.

Fish Bait, in an interview with The Times-Picayune, disclosed he is turning over to the University of Mississippi at Oxford his tremendous volume of papers, photos, books and documents, which portray in part the history he witnessed during more than four decades on Capitol Hill.

Miller, who is leaving Washington Feb. 19 for Atlanta where he will join his daughter, Sarah Patsy Knight, a teacher at Peach Tree High School. She will accompany him the next day to the Old Miss Campus. There Dr. David Sansing, former head of the history department at Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College at Perkinston, will direct the technical part of the presentation of the papers that will be on file at the University's Lyceum. Miller is an alumnus of Gulf Coast Junior College, and was inducted into the hall of fame there in 1971.

Fish Bait said Sansing would determine after a study of the thousands of papers and documents whether a separate book might be published concerning their part in history.

Among other distinguished Mississippians who have given their papers to Old Miss were writer William Faulkner and U.S. Sen. Pat Harrison of Mississippi, a Democratic leader of that body.

Fish bait, a native of Pascagoula, Miss., disclosed he and Mrs. Miller are planning to make their future home at Hattiesburg, where Mrs. Miller's stepmother, Mrs. Pearl Breeland, lives. Mrs. Miller has a sister, Mrs. Wright Harvey, at Tylertown, Miss.

When he returns to Mississippi, Fish Bait plans to do a lot of catfish fishing, and renew acquaintances with many friends he has known since the days he campaigned with his sponsor to Capitol Hill, former Cong. William M. Colmer of Pascagoula, who retired a few years ago after serving as chairman of the House Rules Committee.

It was Colmer who loaned Fish Bait money to attend Gulf Coast Junior College. Miller drove Colmer around the South Mississippi congressional district as Colmer was making his first bid for a seat in Congress in 1932. Fish Bait recalled his board, room, laundry and medical care cost $14.50 a week. He got a janitorial job at the college that paid $7 a week, and Colmer loaned him $8 a week.

Fish Bait's career in the House of Representatives was under the speakerships of Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, Joseph Byrnes of Tennessee, William B. Bankhead of Alabama, Sam Rayburn of Texas, Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, Rayburn again, Martin again Rayburn, a third time until his death then John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, and Carl Albert of Oklahoma, the incumbent speaker.

The six chief executives of the United States he presented at joint sessions of congress were Harry S Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson, Richard M. Nixon, and Gerald R. Ford.

He also of course introduced many heads of state, cabinet officers, the diplomatic corps, and other dignitaries. He greeted Princess Elizabeth in 1952 with a good Mississippi expression — "Howdy Ma'am" — that raised the eyebrows of the State Department's protocol people and evoked a lecture.

Fish Bait's father was a sea captain who plied between American ports on the Gulf of Mexico and ports in the Caribbean. His father, Albert H. Miller, met and started going with Fish Bait's mother when she was a 24-year-old orphan in Pascagoula. He was a British subject at the time.

In the first World War he was lost at sea for several months before he turned up. In World War II his father was a prisoner of the Japanese. Subsequently Capt. Miller was lost off Hong Kong in 1948 while he was delivering ships from the United States to Chiang Kai-Shek. He was never heard from again.

Fish Bait was one of six children. His older brother, James Thomas Howard Miller, lost his life serving aboard a schooner in the Pacific in World War II, and is buried in the Philippines. His other brother, Albert M. Miller Jr., was buried recently at Columbus, Miss. His mother is buried at Norcross, Ga.

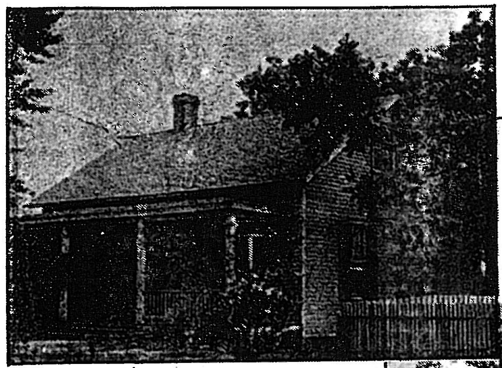
A home with history



LOOK INTO PAST — Early photos show the home where the Millers reared their children 70 years ago. Children James, Albert, 'Fishbait', Annette, Viola, and Frances filled the two story wood framed house. Youngest child Frances, who now resides in Georgia, contributed this photo.

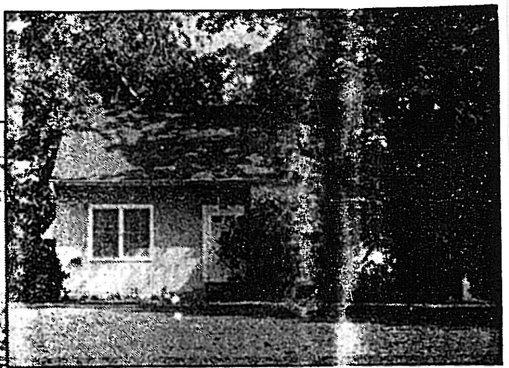
A NEW LOOK — Mr. and Mrs. Billy Witchen stand before their home. Renovation of the home is nearly completed, and as the right and left photos show, the house has taken on several looks through the years. Above is latest "new look."



THROUGH THE YEARS — The Miller home has passed through several families over the years. One couple with no children reduced the size of the house. Thus, creating a new look. The Witchen's purchased the home and re-added a porch and second story.

brings new look to home

Ten years ago Billy Witchen, a former Pascagoula city councilman, bought a home with a history, though he did not know it at the time. The house had taken on many shapes and looks in the past 70 years, and Witchen immediately began his own plan.

Ten years and countless hours of restoration work later, the house is not recognizable as the one William M. "Fishbait" Miller and his family owned 60 years ago. The house named 'Rose Villa' by Captain Albert Miller, father of "Fishbait," now features a curving staircase, specially made red bathtub, sculpture in lighted alcoves, hundreds of plants, and an oriental rock garden.

Witchen, a native of Pascagoula, said he remembered the house when it belonged to the Millers.

I didn't know it was "Fishbait's" home.

Many things in the neighborhood have remained the same over the years. Children who played with the six Miller children 70 years ago still live on the street, which has changed names. Helouise Bowman Painter and Celeste Bowman Taylor live in the home across the street, and C.C. Dupont remains in the house next door.

"The Bowman sisters grew up with 'Fishbait' and all," Witchen said.

Before purchasing the home, Witchen had completely redone his 11th Street house twice because of hurricane damage. Witchen jokes that he caused an uproar with his wife and four children when he decided to move from the completely redone home, buying the house without consulting his family.

"The kids all thought I was crazy and my wife cried for five weeks. I had a pretty good oversight of what I could do with the house." he said. "Now it doesn't even resemble the house we bought. They all love it."

◀ WINDING STAIRS — Witchen said one of his most difficult renovation projects was designing and building this staircase, which is open underneath.

Witchen, who retired last year from Ingalls Shipbuilding, has spent most of his evenings, Saturdays, and holidays working on various projects in the home. Witchen has done almost all of the work on his own.

"He's had a ball," his wife Doris said. "He loves this house. I love it too, but not like he does. He's just crazy about it."

Witchen chose the Live Oak street home because of its location and the lot. He has spent hours cultivating gardens of long stem red roses and other plants on the spacious grounds, and the location provides convenient access to First Baptist Church, where Mr. and Mrs. Witchen are members.

Witchen's sister, Ruby, who visits from her home in New Orleans, said her brother seems to spend 20 of the 24 hours in a day working on the house. A group of senior citizens from a New Orleans church toured the work were positive.

"They all said they loved it because it was different," he said.

Witchen said his work on the home has included reworking all plumbing and wiring, adding a second story, a full sized living area, a windowed porch, skylight, stone alcoves, a plant house, and other features. Witchen did request help with one home project. building a stone fireplace.

Little new material was used in the renovations, Witchen said. Material was removed from three older buildings for much of the work.

"Every time I got ready to do something, the good Lord has opened up the door and it has become available," he said.

Witchen said he sometimes consults his wife when planning new projects for the house. However, many times he said he "Sometimes I would wake up at one or two in the morning with an idea and I'd just go to working," he said. "I like to do my own design. I like to do my own work. That way I don't have anyone to blame but myself if something is wrong."

Witchen said he has also helped in rennovation work for his children. The couple have four children, and three have remained in the area.

Witchen calls the present home his "biggest project." He said he plans to complete the final stages on the house within the next four months.

Mrs. Witchen said that her husband may never complete work on his ideal home or the work that he enjoys so much.

"He might not ever get through. He'll always have something to do. I just let him do his own thing. You have to," she said.

ADDITIONS GALORE — A spacious new living area is just one of the many new features in the Witchen home.

What started as a hobby for Dick Miller has become a small business. Miller was given his first swarm of bees from a friend 25 years ago. From there, he collected about 25 hives. After serving 25 years in the U.S. Air Force and 18 years with the Civil Service, Miller retired and collected more hives. He then opened Gautier Gold Honey. Miller said there is never a dull moment in bee keeping and he finds it different and unique. He said watching the bees work is fascinating. It takes hundreds of bees to make one spoonful of honey. There are typically about 40,000 to 80,000 bees in a hive. Miller has about 60 working hives at his Gautier home and several more hives in Alabama. He will collect about 400 gallons of honey in a season. The Gautier resident has four children, 13 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

paid without penalties, and always hectic days around any tax collector's office.

"Collections have come in fine," a deputy said, "and we believe that with the few belated payments yet to be made that Jackson county will have a very small delinquent list this year. All the large taxpayers paid several days ago; persons who reside outside of the county and own property here have cheerfully and promptly remitted to this office, while the hundreds of smaller taxpayers have made their contributions to the public till without complaining."

The sheriff's forces had not made a final check, but it is believed some surprising results will be shown in the matter of poll tax payments. The fact that the quadrennial state and county elections will take place in 1926 and that to be qualified all taxes, including poll taxes, must be paid before February 1 had the effect of bringing in payments from persons who might not have attended to this detail. The number of supplemental receipts issued by the sheriff to persons who were delinquent for 1925 bears testimony to the fact that the number of voters will be greatly increased.

A general publicity campaign conducted by Jackson county newspapers called attention to the necessity for paying all taxes before February 1 in order to qualify for voting in this year's elections and the sheriff's office attributed many of the payments to this work on the part of the newspapers.

The final reports of the sheriff will show that he has garnered more money from the taxpayers for 1926 taxes than ever in the history of the county. This is accounted partly by the fact that the assessed valuation of the county has shown a consistent skyward tendency the last few years and also because tax levies have held firm in most districts on account of important public improvements. Thirteen of the taxing district enjoyed a reduction in levies, but increased valuations made up the difference.

Many New Voters.

The best evidence of the renewed interest in having something to say about who will hold public office in the state and county the next four years is shown by the new registrations in the office of W. C. Havens, county registrar. Many persons, who had not before paid poll taxes, did so this year and then went over to Mr. Havens' office and registered. Moss Point shows a gain of 16 voters, Ocean Springs 24, Scranton 20, Kreole 14, Escatawpa 6 and Vancleave 4, with other precincts in proportion. Of course many persons put off registering until another time as they have until July to do so. Besides these new registrants, there must be several hundred persons delinquent last year and who were already registered, who paid two years' poll taxes so they would be qualified to vote in 1927.

Sheriff A. W. Ezell and the municipal tax collectors will continue their collections, adding ten per cent damages, until they make up the delinquent tax lists, when additional costs will accrue. The delinquent tax sale is held the first Monday in April.

JAMES MILLER KILLED IN DISTANT PHILIPPINE PORT

Fall Down Hatch Fatal to Pascagoula Boy, Who Was Officer of Ship.

On last Friday Dr. W. R. Kell received a cablegram in code from Captain Albert Miller, announcing the death of James Miller, eldest son of Captain and Mrs. Albert Miller of this city, which, when translated, read as follows:

"Hongkong, Jan. 27, 1927.

"Please prepare him (her, them) to receive following sad news: James killed falling down hatch on January 4, buried at Iloila, a Philippine port.

"MILLER."

This is the only news Mrs. Miller mother of the dead boy, who lives at 420 Porter street, has received concerning the death of her son. However, Mrs. Miller thinks the date is wrong and should be January twenty-fourth instead of the fourth. A young lady in Pascagoula since this cablegram has been received, has received a letter from James dated January 21, stating that his vessel sailed from Shanghai, China, for Manila on January 17, and there loaded with a cargo of sugar, and later moved to Iloila, a small coaling station near Manila, and there he was killed.

Mrs. Miller is awaiting a letter from Captain Miller, giving fuller details.

James was at home for five days in November, leaving Pascagoula on November 15 and sailing from New Orleans with his ship the "Liberator," a U. S. Shipping board vessel, of which he was third officer.

James Miller was a prominent young man, and was progressing right along in his chosen vocation, the sea. He was over 21 years of age, being born in Pascagoula on July 29, 1905. He was educated in the public schools of his home town and after leaving public school took a business course in Mobile. Over five years ago he went to sea with his father as cabin boy, and continued to advance until he became third officer of the "Liberator," on which he met his death. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, and a young man of sterling qualities.

Deceased is survived by his father and mother, two brothers and three sisters to whom the community extends its sympathies and condolences.

MANUFACTURERS RECORD EXTOLS COAST'S ADVANCE

Feature Story Tells of Great Developments in State's Most Favored Region.

An article which appeared in the January 20 issue of the Manufacturers Record has attracted a great deal of attention in Coast cities and in sections where people are watching the rapid growth of the strip of land along the Gulf of Mexico. portion of the gasoline tax and one-half of the portion the county pays into the state treasury, together with any part of the road and bridge privilege tax for the purpose of constructing some form of protection for highways exposed to damage from the sea.

Several months ago the board of supervisors had a survey made of the beach front at Pascagoula, and the engineer drew profiles for a boulevard over a right of way one hunded feet wide. He also showed the contour of the shoreline and the location for a seawall. Acting on this survey, the supervisors had a committee to inspect the route after a number of citizens had filed a petition in regular form asking that a road be opened along the beach front, to determine the need for a highway along the beach. The committee reported that the highway was needed, and Supervisor H. F. Gautier of district No. 3 was authorized to open the road.

Mr. Gautier, working in conjunction with the city of Pascagoula, has had the right of way opened and a road graded and opened to traffic.

Commission Recommends.

Should the supervisors certify to the governor that Jackson county desires the appointment of a road protection commission, further steps towards building the seawall will await the appointment and organization of the commission.

The commission has authority to select and employ a suitable engineer to be approved by the board of supervisors, to make a survey, plans and specifications and estimates of cost of construction which would be done under the commission. The board of supervisors may issue bonds to pay the cost of the work and the commission shall advertise and let a contract for the seawall and boulevard, the board of supervisors to approve all of the commission's proceedings.

The bonds may be retired from the gasoline tax remitted to the county by the state, including one-half of the portion that would otherwise go into the state highway fund. Road and bridge privilege taxes, which are now retained by the county, may also be used for this work, and in addition, the supervisors may levy a special tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline sold in the county, and may levy a privilege tax on each person driving an automobile.

Members of the board of supervisors state, however, that it is not their intention to levy any additional taxes, as the present revenue with the amount diverted from the state highway fund will be sufficient to finance whatever improvements are now under consideration. Neither is it the intention of the board to curtail the building and improvement of roads in the interior of the county.

It is not known at this time just what has been proposed for Ocean Springs, but early estimates of the cost of the first sections of the seawall for both places are placed at from one-half to three-quarters of a million dollars.

Doorkeeper of the House dies at 80

The Los Angeles Times

William "Fish Bait" Miller, the affable doorkeeper of the House of Representatives whose stentorian "Mistuh Speakah — the Prez-dent of the Yoo-nited States" echoed across the halls of Congress for nearly 25 years, has died.

Miller, who opened doors for such visiting House dignitaries as the future queen of England, whom he greeted "howdy ma'am," and then wrote a book that opened doors on the antics of congressmen, was 80 when he died Tuesday at his home in Greensboro, N.C.

Sherrill Bumgarner, director of Hanes-Lineberry Funeral Home in Greensboro, did not provide a cause of death.

In his long tenure, Miller introduced six presidents at joint sessions of Congress and countless other visiting statesmen to the House, letting each name spin forth in an elongated announcement accented by his native Mississippi drawl.

The Congress then would applaud and Miller would sit down at the front of the chamber.

What he saw and learned on Capitol Hill led to his book "Fish Bait," which also included accounts of the drinking and sexual exploits of several members of Congress.

Miller's job came to involve more than guarding doors. He supervised 357 employees and an annual budget of $3.5 million. He oversaw messengers, pages, barbers and janitors.

Fish Bait, who was assigned the sobriquet when he was 15 and weighed only 75 pounds, was born William Mosely Miller in Pascagoula, Miss., a small town that was so near the Gulf Coast that "if you go any farther south you are going to get your feet awfully wet."

And Fish Bait was always two words, he told interviewers: "Capital Fish, Capital Bait."

Miller first arrived in Washington, D.C., in 1933 where he took a job as a clerk in the House post office.

He was first named minority doorkeeper in 1947, when the Democrats lost control of the House. He had competition for the job in 1949, when the Democrats regained majority status, but he wrote personal notes to each member while his opponent sent a mimeographed letter.

William 'Fish Bait' Miller was the folksy doorkeeper of the House of Representatives for almost 25 years. AP PHOTO

Miller said that he helped Democratic House members get their choice of offices by sanding his fingertips so he could identify by touch the metal disks drawn to determine office assignments.

Probably his most famous moment came in 1952 when Queen Elizabeth II, then the crown princess of England and her husband, Prince Philip, visited Washington.

Miller walked up to her, said "howdy ma'am" and then proceeded to escort the royal duo around the House chamber.

"Wave to the boys and girls in the gallery," Miller told the prince. "I will not," Philip replied.

Miller, 5 feet 8 inches tall and slightly pear shaped, lost his job in 1974 in a power switch that cost Rep. Wilbur Mills most of his influence and all his appointments. Mills had become publicly involved with a stripper.

By then Miller had become a Capitol Hill legend. He prided himself on knowing the birthdays of most congressmen, of saying that "everyone's important here," of prowling the corridors of Congress in his bare feet, having left his shoes in the House barber shop where they were being shined.

The man who once told Rep. Bella Abzug to remove her hat in the House — she encouraged him to perform an anatomically impossible act — returned to Mississippi where he co-authored "Fish Bait" in which the lives and exploits of many congressmen were touched upon. He later moved to Greensboro to be near his daughter.

Miller said that his favorite Democrats were former President Truman, who laughed away Miller's potentially damaging remarks to the princess and prince, and longtime House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

"Sam Rayburn's heart was as big as my head and your head put together," he once said. "And Truman, I liked him because he said exactly what he meant and you always knew exactly where he stood."

He also had fond remembrances of Republican Richard Nixon, who once sent him a birthday card that "made me feel like sovereignty, which I ain't."

William 'Fishbait' Miller

William M. "Fishbait" Miller, a Pascagoula native who served as doorkeeper of the House of Representatives during 28 of his 42 years in Washington, died Tuesday night at his home in Greensboro, N.C.

Services for Miller, 80, will be held Saturday in Hattiesburg at Hulett-Winstead Funeral Home at 10 a.m. Burial will be in Tylertown City Cemetery.

Miller is survived by his widow, Mable Breeland Miller of 5208 Fox Hunt Drive, Greensboro; one daughter, Sara-Patsy Knight, also of Greensboro; two grandchildren and three sisters.

Miller went to Washington with the late Cong. William M. Colmer, D-Miss. (also of Pascagoula).

During his years as doorkeeper ('48-'76), Miller gained a reputation for his deep southern drawl that millions heard many times on television: "Mistah Speaker, the President of the United States."

After his retirement, he wrote about his experiences, Fishbait, the Memoirs of the Congressional Doorkeeper, which cited accounts of the drinking and sexual exploits of several members of Congress. Five million paperback copies were sold.

As doorkeeper, Miller supervised 357 employees and an annual budget of $3.5 million.

Miller got his nickname "Fishbait" as a child from being so small. He said he started working when he was 9-years-old at Pascagoula's Palace Pharmacy.

One of Miller's favorite stories occurred when he met Princess Elizabeth II. "I'm the man who got in trouble by saying, 'Howdy m'am' when I was introduced to the queen."

He said President Harry Truman told him he warned the princess Miller was a character. "Well, I warned them and you sure didn't let me down," Miller quoted Truman as saying.

Miller said his favorite Democrats were Truman and longtime House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

Some excerpts from Miller's book:

"The rule around this place (Washington) is 'Every man a king' — and don't forget it.

"I didn't forget. I thrived as I made my home among the mighty. I was like a pilot fish. Or maybe the little fish that swims along with the biggies, grooming them, keeping the little pests and blood suckers away. I studied the big fish. I learned their needs and habits.

"I've known seven presidents — Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower, Johnson, Nixon, Ford and Carter — and to me LBJ was the most interesting. That's because he was the hardest to figure out — was he dumb or foxy?

"My favorite VIP was Winston Churchill. He was a spellbinder when he talked and also held me spellbound when I watched how much he could eat."

New Membership Drive Underway By Local Legion Post

Tying in local effort with the new state-wide membership campaign, Commander M. D. Matthews, Howell-Grantham Post No. 53 of the American Legion here, this week said that the winter-spring membership drive has officially begun in George County.

The local Legionaires, now boasting a Post membership of 160, are seeking to receive into membership all honorably discharged veterans of World Wars I and II. Legion membership, added the Commander, carries not only the social and personal prestige not elsewhere obtainable, but also furnishes an incomparable opportunity for service.

Center of focus of the Legion's streamlined 1949 program is the disabled veteran and his rehabilitation. Local Post officials point with pride to beneficial legislation which was obtained during the 1949

Power To Be Short While S Afternoon

Attention is called t ment on page five of which the Mississippi pany states that it wi to have the power cu eral hours Sunday good seed bed whenever it showers.

"Such crops as bunch beans, drawf limas, rutabagas, turnips and other root and salad crops can be planted any time during the month. Irish potatoes for fall crop, English peas, the latter part of the month, cabbage seeded for fall and winter. The above crops are semi-hardy except beans and will withstand light cold snaps.

"There is often a good shipping demand for beans after they are killed out farther north, and for English peas there is always an active demand from October on. In the southern part of the state planting of peas can be made from September on through the season. They are sometimes killed down but more often go through and make a crop after the cool fall weather.

"The average killing frost for central Mississippi is about October 25, which gives us about three months under normal conditions for maturing these crops.

"It is especially a good season to prepare land for fall oats and other small grains and winter cover crops."

MRS. KENNEDY IS CANDIDATE FOR MARSHAL AND TAX COLLECTOR

In this issue Mrs. Annie Kennedy announces her candidacy for town marshal. This we feel is timely and should receive the careful and most serious consideration of the voters. Mrs. Kennedy has for several years served the town as clerk and due to the fact that the town must practice the most rigid economy, the office will be merged with other duties and the salary insufficient to make it of any interst, and since the law provides that the office of marshal and tax collector is an elective office and the duties are such that a lady can render entirely satisfactory service at a moderate salary. We know of no one better qualified to fill the office than Mrs. Kennedy, who has familiarized herself with the tax collector's office. The duties of marshal here is of very little importance as the sheriff force can always be called on when an officer is needed, a lady can and will be fully able to take care of the situation. The tax situation is the main duties and we ask that the voters give the claims of Mrs. Kennedy the careful and earnest consideration it deserves.

OREN MILLER DEAD

Saturday morning the sad news reached here that death had come to Oren Miller, the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Miller. HIGH TAXES AND OTHER THINGS

Lucedale, Mississippi
April 30, 1931.

To the Editor of the George County Times:

When times are hard we always hear a great deal about high taxes. but we should cheer up. Hard times will not be here always, good times are coming, and then we will not think and fuss so much about high taxes.

The people of Lucedale and George County, and especially the people of Lucedale, should be thankful for the prevailing low rate of taxation. The taxpayers in Lucedale pay a total tax, including State, County and Municipal taxes of only 51 mills, while the rate in the Bexley Consolidated School District is 52 mills, in the Rocky Creek School district 56 mills, in the Ward District 59 mills, in the Daisy-Vestry and Howell Districts 60 mills each, in the Central District 64 mills, and in the Basin District 73 mills. So it will be seen that the total tax rate in the town of Lucedale is not nearly so large as the rate is in several of the country districts where no municipal taxes are paid.

But that is not all. George County is to be congratulated as a whole on its low rate of taxation. There are other counties in Mississippi whose total tax rate in some districts aggregate from 100 to 130 mills.

The town of Lucedale does not owe one cent of bonded indebtedness. It is true that the Lucedale separate school district has a small unpaid bonded indebtedness, but the town of Lucedale proper has no outstanding bonds whatever. Where is another town the size of Lucedale without any bonded indebtedness?

George County also has very few outstanding bonds, and there is now sufficient sinking fund in the County treasury to pay all the outstanding bonds, if they were due, except about $15,000.00. The Board of Supervisors at its May meeting contemplates taking up all the outstanding Court pay expenses of legislators attending the extra session.

The resolution urges the governor to immediately call the legislature into extraordinary session for adoption of these measures and prompt adjournment.

Governor Bilbo retires from office in January, 1932. The emergency action was pressed to care for needs of the state until the incoming governor, to be elected this year, places the state's program before the legislature.

Bilbo said the next move was up to thelegislators but they left it up to him after the barren session.

DEATH OF J. E. MILLER

Mr. J. E. Miller who died here Sunday 19th, was a native of Indiana and had been a resident of Mississippi about twenty four years. He moved to Jackson county from his native state in 1913, locating near Hurley, where he was in business for several yeats, later moving to Wilmer, with his son, who was in business there, and come here two years ago. For several years he had not been active in business on account of his physical condition but took a keen interest in business affairs, and in the development and welfore of this, his adopted state. For about ten years he has been in feeble health and during that time there was very few nights he was able to enjoy a restful night, and while his death was sudden, it was not altogether unexpected. He was carried to Wade for burial. Rev. Hugh Castle having charge of the funeral services. Mr. Miller is survived by his wife, and an only son, B. C. Miller, who have the sympathy of the entire community.

Quite a crowd from here attended the Hugh White rally at Columbia Thursday. Several cars loaded with Hugh White supporters made the trip and were well pleased with what they saw, and heard. Hugh White has a strong following in George County and will likely be here about June 1st to talk to the voters and, will most likely add, many to his long list of friends, and supporters.

a working policy."

The story in the Mobile Register quoted Von Sprecken as saying east Moss Point would get more flooding, if it were not for Big Creek dam. He also said officials at Big Creek Lake keep the level of the lake down normally between one and one-half feet.

"It's never full so we will have some room to work with. If we didn't keep the level down, they would be getting that water and more. We might add a quarter of a half inch to their flooding situation, but no more," Von Specken said in the newspaper.

Vice initiated discussing on the issue in a meeting of the Moss Point Board of Aldermen more than a week ago, when he told Mayor Louis Jackson the board should direct its attorney, Richie Perkins, to investigate the possibility of legal action to stop Alabama authorities from opening the flood gates.

Jackson asked Vice to consider asking Mississippi Attorney Michael C. Moore to pursue the matter. He said action by Moore would save the city a great deal of money in legal fees.

Vice told the board, following recent heavy rain, there were streets flooded that had not been flooded since 1983. He said residents of Kraft, Valley and East streets were the hardest hit.

"There was no notice given to the people of my district. They were directly affected by those gates being opened.

"We received about eight inches of rainfall, but the rains had stopped for 24 hours. Then those gates were opened and we got a sudden surge coming out of Paper Mill Canal. Then we got water coming out of Six-Mile Branch, after it had worked its way out of the Escatawpa River. We were impacted on two fronts almost simultaneously."

Jackson County Civil Defense and Mobile County Civil Defense offices are normally contacted when the gates are opened, officials at Big Creek Lake told the Mobile Register. The MWSS employee who was on duty at the station during the recent heavy rains said efforts were made to contact the Jackson County Civil Defense hours before the gates were opened, but there was no answer.

Ski mask robber hits Spring store

OCEAN SPRINGS — A man wearing a ski mask robbed the Junior Food Store at Parktown Drive and U.S. 90 early Tuesday, Ocean Springs Police said. The man reportedly fled by car with about $9.

Assistant Police Chief George Mulvaney said the 2:55 a.m. incident is still under investigation.

Police said the female store clerk was held up by a black male, about six-feet tall, with brown eyes. He was wearing a dark ski mask, blue jeans and jacket. Police said the clerk could not identify the type of car used by the man. He was last seen heading east on U.S. 90.

Patrolman Gerald White initially responded, followed by Detective Sgt. Louis Miller.

Death Of Mrs. Miller

Mrs. Olive Victoria Miller, age 71, died at the home of her son, Boyd Miller, here Friday morning of last week, after an illness of about six months.

Mrs. Miller had ben an invalid for a number of years, and was confined to the house most of her time, but was seen on her front porch often, and always was of good cheer. Her health has been declining for the past six months, however, with death ending the physical suffering of a great lady.

Mrs. Miller was born in Franklin County, Ind., Sept. 11, 1868, and on August 17, 1892, at Kewanna, Ind., was marired to the late J. E. Miller.

In 1914 Mrs. Miller moved with her husband and son to Hurley, where they made their home until 1928, when she and her husband came to Lucedale and made their home with their son, Boyd.

She was a member of the United Brothern Church, having joined when young, back in Indiana.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning, with Rev. R. A. Allums, pastor of the Lucedale Methodist church in charge of the last rites, and interment was made in Wade cemetery, where she was laid to rest beside her husband who preceeded her to her grave by nine years. McKay's Morticians directed.

She is survived by one son, B. C. Miller, three grandchildren and other relatives back in Indiana. These bereaved have the sympathy of their friends during the trying hours.

Pallbearers carrying her to her last resting place were Ellis W. Hamilto, Clifford Johnson, Clint R. Stringfellow, Mize Johnson, Ranse Faggard and Charlie Goff.

In the Louisiana districts the fish and oyster industry suffered a severe blow and almost ruined. New Orleans got the most of her oysters from the storm-swept section.

Many little fishing settlements in Louisiana were washed out of existence, and the few survivors, until relief came, subsisted on dead animals and anything they could get.

Two Slavonians in Louisiana were adrift for five days on an upturned skiff. One man sought death and begged to be killed that he might furnish food for the comrade who struggled to save him.

The people of New Orleans have contributed to the flood sufferers with noted liberality, and the exchanges and charities of other cities throughout the country have come to the relief promptly and liberally.

New Orleans had secured up to Tuesday a relief fund of about $80,000. The death list between Chaniree and Bayou Cook is placed at 1,600. The total number of deaths by the storm will reach 2,000.

In the Louisiana fishing settlements the scene after the storm was appalling.—Hundreds dead in every direction, homes wrecked and distress and despair depicted on every survivor's face. For the most part they were a simple folk, but withal cheerful and busy in the peaceful occupation of fishing. They were frugal in their habits, honest in their engagements and religious with the simplicity of children. The tidal waves destroyed their shipping, engulfed and swept away their homes and families—and the destruction was complete.

Judge Mayers' Successor.

"Gov. Stone may not appoint Judge A. G. Mayers the succeed himself, but if he appoints anybody else he will not obey the wishes of the people in east Mississippi."—Brandon Call.

Commenting on the above, the Grenada Sentinel—which lives in another district and can have no personal interest in the matter—well says:

"If the Sentinel knows Governor Stone, and it thinks it does, such paragraphs as this may not keep him from re-appointing Judge Mayers if he thinks he merits re-appointing, but they certainly will not tend to make him do so, if he thinks Mayers an unsuitable person to longer wear judicial robes. The constitution charges the Governor with the naming of judges, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and on more than one occasion the present Governor, when he could get a better man than those scrambling for recognition, has made the selection without asking the endorsement of bar or newspapers. He did this in the case of Judge Campbell. The Governor knows the bar of the State about as well as any man in the State, its qualifications and disqualifications. He is a man of his own head. But he is eminently a just man; and if he thinks Mayers ought to be re-appointed, the paragraph above quoted will not keep him from sending his name to the Senate."

The tug Louisiana of New Orleans, chartered by the Picayune to distribute the Sunday edition along the coast towns, was here a few hours Monday.

A channel half a mile wide has been cut through Chandeleur's. The point northwest of the fort was washed away, while the buoy has moved southwestward.

The schooner Anna, M. Stammer was at Vera Cruz Sept. 28th, discharging cargo preparatory to coming in ballast for Pascagoula. She was not in the storm as reported.

The government quarantine service has been removed to Ship Island, and will probably be established there permanently, as the storm completely ruined Chandeleur Island for such purpose.

The British steamer Manin cleared Saturday with lumber for Rotterdam. She has a tonnage of 1393 tons and carried a cargo of 1,400,000 feet, the largest for the tonnage ever shipped from this port. She was loaded by Capt. Patrick Feore, stevedore, for Hunter, Benn & Co.

The American schooner Angie L. Green, Capt. Lee, from Philadelphia to Galveston, with cargo of coal, was caught in the storm in the gulf near Pensacola, and entirely dismantled. The captain at one time gave up all hopes of being saved. She was towed into Penscola.

A Holland sailor named Henry Dhondt, walked from Scranton to Mobile after the storm and told a pitiful tale to the Dutch consul about being storm-beaten and wrecked at Ship Island off the ship Ravensdale, in order to get aid. He proved to be a fraud—a deserter from the seeamer Welhaven at Progresso, where he afterwards shipped on the Ravensdale for Ship Island, and deserted again.

Much comment is passed among the shipping fraternity on the conduct of the revenue cutter Seward, during and after the storm. It is claimed it did not rescue the crew of the Webb, as it reported to the government, and instead of going to the relief of Chandeleur and Ship Islands vessels, it lay in the river at Scranton until all assistance would be almost useless—Tuesday evening—and then steamed off to Mobile.

The two-masted schooner Fred S. that sunk in the storm at Farnsworth's lumber wharf, was raised on Wednesday, after several days' work by Mr. S. R. Thompson who had the contract. After four days' work with her he called in the assistance of Mr. B. F. Pickett, and in six hours' work had the boat afloat. She is now owned by two lawyers, who think of changing her name to the "Two Horaces." When legal business gets dull they can now throw the cast-net and drive mullet.

The bark Lupus was blown to pieces at Chandeleur's.

PASCAGOULA LIGHTHOUSE.

Mr. Robert A. Dimitry, keeper of the East Pascagoula river light station gives the following description (taken from the log-book kept at the station) of the effects of the storm upon the lighthouse under his charge: The plank walk and wharf were the first to give way, followed by the boat house and all the boats at the station. The carpenter shop, store house and other out houses next fol-

Mr. A. G. Tebo and family, after spending the summer her as usual, returned last week.

The Postal Telegraph Company has opened an office here, with Mr. G. W. Grayson in charge. They have been doing quite a business, which they deserve, being just as accommodating, rapid and prompt as—it is possible for any company to be.

The schooner Alphonsine, which was out in the storm, in Louisiana Marsh, and supposed to have been lost, returned Tuesday about 3 o'clock p. m. The families of the crew express great joy at their return.

"After the squall is over."

Several hundred men are at work on back Bay bridge, and expect to complete it by next Monday or Tuesday. Wednesday a train of camp cars from Scranton arrived and trains are being run pretty regular. Civil engineer Montfort is here, but as yet Superintendent Marshall has not arrived.

OBITUARY.

MRS. ISABELLA B. MILLER, consort of R. D. Miller, died August 28, 1893, aged 23 years, 12 days, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Canfield. She leaves a husband and three little children.

Dear husband, could you see me
In a world of pure delight,
With my crown of diamonds,
Too bright for human sight,
You would not grieve my absence,
For me you would not mourn,
You would not wish me back again
To bear what I have borne.

Dear husband, trust in Jesus
Prepare to follow me,
Not years we'll spend in heaven,
But an eternity.
Then let your tears of sorrow
Forever cease to flow,
And join in songs of praises
Though you remain below.

Father, mother, sister, brother,
I shall watch until you come,
I'll be waiting 'round the portals
To bid you welcome home.
There'll be no death or sorrow,
And O, how happy we shall be—
An unbroken family circle
Who hath crossed death's narrow sea.

—JULIA VISE.

Third Birthday Of Barry McIlwain Is Marked By Party

Barry McIlwain was three years old Wednesday and the date was made occasion for a party on the lawn of the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McIlwain with his mother, Mrs. Julius McIlwain as hostess.

The lawn was gay with tables decorated in green and pink in keeping with the colors of the prettily decorated birthday cake.

The usual ceremony preceded the cutting of the cake which was served with brick ice cream.

The guest list included about 20 of Barry's neighborhood friends.

arch of white entwined [illegible] clematis. Palms and baskets of white gladioli completed the setting.

The bride entered with her brother, Placide K. Walker. She wore white organdy modeled with a tucked yoke and trimmed with lace. Her full skirt fell over white satin. A picture hat with veil and bow of illusion at the back, white shoes and matching gloves completed the ensemble. She carried a white prayerbook to which white roses were attached.

Attendant Her Sister

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Mable Walker, who wore an orchid organdy, a replica of the bride's in design. Her halo of yellow asters matched those in the colonial bouquet tied with golden ribbons, that she carried.

Mr. Webb was attended by Kirk Patrick as best man.

Following the wedding the bride's brother, Jack Walker, and Mrs. Walker presided over a reception at their home on S. Pascagoula.

The wedding colors and flowers predominated in the decorations.

Mrs. Walker was assisted by Miss Amelia Pickett who finished slicing the cake after the first cut by the bride and groom. It was then served with punch by Misses Mary Ann Krebs, Carol Marie Walker, Dot Parker, Mary Amanda Krebs, Nelle Walker Cora Nell Krebs, Ann Krebs and Mrs. Calvin Walker. Mrs. J. D. PLEASANT VALLEY METHODIST CHURCH
Pleasant Valley Road
Mobile, Alabama

(Courtesy Pleasant Valley Methodist Church Membership Book)

CONTRIBUTED BY: Mrs. Ruth C. Schug
and Mrs. Patricia E. Garside

Pleasant Valley Methodist Church had its beginning in a Union Church which met in homes in the Cottage Hill area before the Civil War; the number of years is not now known. Eventually, a building was acquired, and after the effects of the Civil War were over, numbers of people began leaving Cottage Hill. The Church was disassembled and moved to its present location in approximately 1867. The building was located about 60 feet east of the present building, or in what is now the parking area under the past big oak tree.

Family Reunion Of J. J. Miller Family At Old Homesit

A re-union of members of the family and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Miller, was celebrated in Escatawpa Sunday, September 15, at the home of Henry C. Miller, near the old family homestead. There wer 49 members of the family attending.

The group met in the morning and at 10 o'clock they attended services and worshipped in the Latter Day Saints church. This is the old home and family church and is known as "The Little White Church in the Pines by the Side of the Road."

At noon the entire family gathered around a large table spread with the finest of foods. After a song, "America," led by Mrs. Aubrey Miller of Mobile, prayer was offered by Rev. N. L. Booker of Vancleave and then all enjoyed a fine feast.

Members of the immediate family present were Rev. A. G. Miller and family of Vancleave; Eaton E. Miller and family; Frank Miller and family; Daniel Miller and family and Aubrey Miller and family, all of Mobile; Edward Miller and family of Kreole; Charlie and Henry C. Miller of Escatawpa; Mannie Gill and family of Escatawpa; Mrs. Myrtle Moe and family of Ocean Springs.

The groups voted unanimously to make the gathering an annual event. A. G. Miller was elected to have full charge of arrangements.

Special guests for this occasion were N. L. Booker, D. W. Sherman and A. N. Barnes. Sep. 27, 1940
